SUMMARY

ISSUES and OPPORTUNITIES WORKSHOP

On April 25, 2018 over 75 people attended the first of three community workshops at Congregation Beth Yeshurun to discuss the recovery and the future for Houston’s Mid-Brays Bayou communities. The workshop objectives included:

Objectives:
- Provide an overview of the Mid-Brays Bayou Strategic Plan purpose and process
- Share highlights from stakeholder meetings
- Discuss critical issues and opportunities strategic planning should address

The attendees were welcomed by Ben Samuels, co-chair of the Jewish Federation’s Flood Resilience Task Force. Bruce Race from the University of Houston and David Abraham from Rice University reviewed the strategic planning process and highpoints of committee input. Participants then worked in teams to identify top issues and opportunities for Mid-Brays Bayou communities. They identified issues and opportunities pertaining to community identity, services, and other priority areas.
