

W W Wetherill file
[233]

12th, September, 1949.

Department of Printed Books,
British Museum,
London, W.C.1.
Telephone: Museum 8621

Dear Sir,

The British Museum Library has lost a considerable number of books as a result of enemy action. Among volumes destroyed was your work

The Church of Tomorrow. 1936.

It has proved difficult to replace all our losses through the ordinary commercial channels, and we should be most grateful if you could give us any assistance. Would you be so kind as to address your reply to me.

Yours faithfully,

A. F. Johnston-Wilson.