

Friday
May 10, 1935

On this fateful May noon, the President of the Architectural Society, the Vice Institute called the meeting to order by loud bangs of a hammer - singing of the Star Spangled Banner was lovely in its absence of sound.

The treasurer James Thomas gave a report and read the Honor roll.

The nominations for various offices were given -

Nominations are as follows.

President - James Mcbee, Seth Louis Morris, and Adolf Struener.

Vice President - Vincent Quincy, Herbert Johnson - and Tom Pals Miller.

Treasurer - Mary Isabel Mount, ~~John~~ ~~Charles~~ ~~David~~ - and Lawrence Vibrice.

Secretary - Octavia Jacobia Chambers, Isabelle Boob - and Mary Bates.

These nominees will be voted on at next meeting.

A discussion of pledging followed. Pledging is to be at end of Treasurer year.

James Mcbee spoke of pledging September.

on an rating of architectural basis - Robert Ribs enlarged on this by saying that Fordewen should be pledged at end of the year and kept on an associate membership basis until they reach a certain architectural standard where they will be initiated.

The Society is desirous of having a definite plan along this line which they may present to Mr. Walker.

There was a motion to appoint a committee to investigate this. It was put to vote - Mr. Sainey, came in and voted late - the motion was carried.

The committee is as follows -

Robert Ribs

James Thomas

James McBee.

A motion was made and carried to invite Mr. Walker to the next meeting James Earl Munnaway opened a discussion on some spring announcement for the Society
 but was out of order.

a motion to adjourn - meeting
 adjourned.
