20 October 1913

My dear Mr. McCann:

In a letter received from Mr. J. E. Chillman, Jr., during the summer, he says that he was leaving in your care a black and white drawing of the sally-port which he desired to give to the Institute. Accordingly I should be very much obliged if you would at your convenience have the drawing sent to my office.

Very sincerely yours,

Mr. E. G. McCann
The Rice Institute