my dear little girl,

Well I guess I've have to start off with the weather, because it sure has changed suddenly. It was nice and warm this morning, but a norther has blown up and it's getting colder all the time. I believe that I would have a better chance at anything than at being a Dr., unless it is a Ph.D.

Well we one and lost one game to Texas here. The first game we lost 24-26. Oh Gavion that was a game. I thought that I had seen basketball games but I certainly was mistaken. Neither team was more than 20 or points ahead at any time during the game, as soon as we would get 2 or points ahead Texas would tie it and vice versa. At the end of the first half the score was 8-7 in our favor. When the game ended the score was tied 20-20 so they decided to play five minutes more, well neither team scored in that five minutes so they played five minutes more, Picked up with a basket, Texas comes back and makes one telling the score, there they got two in a row and as luck would have it we only had time to get one more so they that us 24-20. That was in a bowl, we lost when we took them to the bowl game and we lost where we took them to the Texas game. We didn't have him down last night, because we had (or they had) a dance after the game and we didn't want to be bothered with him. No one tried to get him either night though, that is, not while we had it down town or out here.

Last night it was Rex from beginning to end. We started off and had six points before they could say seat. The first half ended with the score 14-7 in our favor, well that is a pretty good lead. When the game ended, though the score was 23-14 in our favor, so for the second time Rice has defeated Texas. I never was under such a nervous strain as I was at that first game. I got to where I couldn't watch them anymore, you have no idea how exciting that was, and my there were over 1000 people there. And for the yelling. It sure was great. We play TAM at College Station next week from tomorrow. I was so glad to hear that we won one of those games.

You never heard said before that you wanted to go to South America, so I just thought I would go on over to Europe and get in the "free for all" they are having over there. Don't you think it would be great to get into a battle? (provided you were a captain and could stand in the track).

Why sure I knew little people brought good luck aren't you little. I'll be up to get my sapphire stone before long, so be sure you don't lose it, what color is sarclayine? What makes you think, I would laugh oh what you said?

No I'm not a heathen yet, but I guess I'll have to call myself an atheist. I really can't see things in the same light as those ministers, maybe someday if someone will show me how I will. Sure I believe in churches but not in the majority of the churches of today. I guess I'll join a church some day but I believe I'll wait until I get married so I'll know what church my wife goes to, see then I can join it if it will make her any happier, because that's all that I will care about then.
I let you all learned a lot in Sunday School this morning, just about as much as I got out of last Saturday's English lesson, and that wasn't very much.

We get to see an airship expedition every Sunday now. This man lives just across from the athletic field and he makes flights every Sunday. He will take up a passenger for $10. This morning two of his propellers went up. Once time while they were up the propellers came off, had it not been that the man was an extra good aviator, they would have both been killed, but as it was neither was hurt there are lots of good fields where you can loud around here, I sure would like to go up, but I imagine it would scare me silly.

Last Monday there were five Hawaiians down at the Auditorium. Two yuccalele's, two guitars and one violin. They sure could play. Then they had a guitar with steel strings and I never heard such music. One of them played a Beige Call on that thing and it sounded as if it were in the dead of night, with every note just as clear. It sure was good.

Did you see Mrs. Hart in the Gunman? He's playing in that here now and I am going to try to get to see it tomorrow if you haven't got a date, may I take you.
Well I just got there holding my arm out for eight ½ minutes, if you can't read the rest of this letter just blame it on that.

my poor arm sure feels lame, never again "Eddie".

I wasn't referring to asking someone to go with you, in a letter, I mean you went up to them and ask them. Now see if you know where it was.

By golly I'm going over and get Jack to hold out his arm for 8 minutes, I didn't know minutes were so long. But time flying, sometimes it seems like it moves awful slow, but here it is almost the middle of February, wish it was the middle of May because then it wouldn't be long until you would be coming down here.

I hope I'm still here then but I doubt it very much.

I know you all had a good time last night and I sure wish that I could have been there.

Oh yes before I forget it, my foot is alright, I mean that arch support every day except Sunday, and it sure does do a whole lot of good, it never does hurt anymore, I haven't tried dancing on it, because I want to go to the Sophomore dance on the 21st and you just want it to be sure there. You better come down and go to that dance, because we are sure going to have a good time. I might be with the "roughnecks going" again that night you never can tell.

Lots of love - (Att)}
