Dear Gaius,

I always start a new term of with resolutions to study and it generally takes two weeks before I can get started. Here this week has practically passed and I have studied one night and then it was almost midnight (11:30) before I started. I am going to finish out this week now and then start in right next Monday. I sure have been enjoying life this week but all that grows old. The grades came out last Tuesday and I'm glad to say that I passed everything and considering I did better this term than last, and I'm going to try to make this third term the best yet some way or another. When I once start studying I don't want to stop the only trouble is in getting started. I know of thirty who "trusted" this term, there may be a few more, but I happened to see the list, only nine boys from the dormitories, the rest of them were boys and girls from in town I know you all had a good time coming down that old river I haven't been up there so very much but I have always had a good time and I know that the next time I go I will have a whole lot better one.
I hope your pictures were good because I sure do want some of there, we never have had these developed we took out here about a month age, maybe someday we will do that. Old lady bought two rolls of film and wanted to take some pictures last Sunday but Jack wanted me to go to the majestic with him and I went, the clock is pretty good but I have seen lots better.
The Architectural society of the institute is putting on a show next here this week or rather beginning tonight, then Friday & Saturday, known as the "Brain trust" it is a comedy and from what I've seen yet and from what the boy said after the performance tonight it must be pretty good, I can't guaranty Saturday night, its being shown in the drafting room the mechanical building, so it only takes about ten minutes to get there and back.

Last night a bunch of us went down to see 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea. The regular price was 55¢, but they gave each Rice student a ticket, together with advice we could get in. The ticket had on it, good for any performance. When we got there people were standing way out in the lobby, we presented our tickets and the lady said, 'These tickets are not good after 2:30. Well it was 8:30 then, the ticket didn't say anything about that, so we wouldn't leave the window and we started raising such a fuss that they sold us tickets and accepted the ones we had. I guess people standing around thought we had gone crazy from the amount of noise we made anyway. That is about the craziest picture I ever
No. I don't know the other name for paeonies, what is it? I wish you could see where they grow else, the garden everywhere is so green, and violets, and paeonies, and some other flower. I don't know the name are blooming all over the campus. This is the time of the year that this place looks prettiest, a little later when the Cape jasmine start blooming, it simply can't be beat. I sure am glad that you are here and not somewhere else.

Seventy weeks from now I will be in Dallas. I just know that those weeks never will pass away.

Did Carl Fabric quit or did he get sick? You know now that since my leave come home you are troubled to death, that & c. & c., you couldn't make me go home now. There's too much to look forward to, Christmas for instance.

I hope you have a good time at the dance to-morrow night. Sorry that your not going to better my eye to perfectly natural again at least in color. It isn't sure, but you can't tell it. — Yoursly — C.G.
