Sweetheart, mine, you know how you feel when you go camping and stay out all night and sleep very little, well that is the way I feel now. You know what I told you we were going to do last night, well we started out but we certainly did make a miserable failure. We all put on masks and hid in the bushes, well we rang the bell to his room and then told him he had a long distance call, well he did not seem to believe it, but he finally came down and as he started between the bushes, we caught him, of course, he was greatly surprised but he came along for a little way alright, and so we didn't gag him as we had at first planned, and as later developments showed we should have done. I guess he had gone with us about 100 feet when all of a sudden he yells, worse than a Comanche Indian, all Sophomores out, Help! Help! Well talk it from me we gagged him as best we could, the sudden came near biting my finger off, though, but he let out another yell and then honey things began to happen, they were coming towards us from all sides, and we didn't turn him loose until they were right up on us, and then we pushed him towards the ones nearest to us and they all piled in a heap. Well honey we scattered to the four winds and I'm here to tell you automobile races are not in it, because I brought all records last night, I was moving so fast draw out from under my hat, Tremerever passing one toy and he said - Stop slime - well that only caused me to increase speed and towards the athletic field I went. Shorty in front of me and John behind me. Poor shorty thought he was caught because he said he looked back once and he saw John with a hat on. And the next time he looked back he saw someone without a hat, but that was only me. I was sure gaining on him. You know I told you my gut never had failed me yet. We beat it out to the Bayou and then started circling and came in by one of the tool houses. After we had waded through water up to our thighs and had the mosquitoes nearly carry us off, but soon we had to leave the tool house and this time we came in by the Mechanical Building you know. That is the furthest building away. Well we went around to the back and laid down for about 15 minutes, and then so tired we didn't know what to do. We were panting so hard we came near blowing the building over. Well we finally got tired of that and decided we would go back. We didn't know what had become of the rest of the gang, whether any had been caught or not. As we passed by the Biology Lab. I told them we could go in there to stay a I could get a try to a little house, just back of the lot. We started to do that at first but then decided to go back to the dorm and if we were caught and not outnumbered too much to give them an awful fight, as luck would have it, we all three lived in separate dorms. So we parted and I went and crawled in a boy's window on the first floor and then slipped up into my room, the boy never did know that I had been in his room. I got up to my room at 1:30 and my roommate sure was anxious for my safety. He said that a whole bunch of them had been out. looking for me because they thought I had been caught. The seniors & most of the juniors sure stood together. Anyway all of us got away and so did the sophomore. Bill Cason was up here to see me today, or at least he came to see a cousin of his who goes to school here and then they came up to see me. He was telling me about what a post office Gage Lyons was. Sweetheart. Hope you haven't the blues any more. What have you got them over honey? I sure do want to see you honey, for a whole lot to tell you that I just simply can't write.

I am coming up Sunday week honey. That is the day after we play '31 Texas. Unless of course something out of the ordinary happened. I would come up this Sunday but I've got so much to do. I simply can't see my way clear as yet but you know you never can tell about me.

Well sweetheart until I am going to study now and then sleep. I'm simply all in.

I love you too sweetheart, with all my love.

Atto.
Postage Due 2 cents

Miss Gainer Roberts
70 Texas Power & Light Co.
Interurban Bldg.

Dallas Texas