

December 7, 1920
10:30 a.m.
Houston, TX

2 cents

Monday Night

Mrs. O.H. Eisenlohr
Miss Gainor Roberts
c/o Texas Power and Light Co.
Interurban Bldg.
Dallas, TX

My dearest Sweetheart,

I got the letter you wrote Friday this afternoon and you can't imagine what a relief it brought me. Honey I'm just pining away down here for want of you and goodness knows what it will be tow weeks from now. I'm blue, I'm lonesome, and unhappy and it's all because I am away from the one person I love with all my heart. Do I sound very silly sweetheart? I don't mean to, but that is just the way I feel, so why not write it. When I think how happy we could be if we were together in our little room tonight you don't know how it makes me feel. This sure is going to be one more happy Christmas isn't it dear. Just think honey it's only 19 days from today, and about 15 until I am home. Well we have waited before so I guess we can wait again, but I sure hate it.

Sweetheart I got my collars also this afternoon. But honey I wasn't referring to the buttons being off of those, but off of the ones I have with me. But it's alright now because I have plenty to last me until I get back and then I'll let you sew buttons on the ones I have. I tried to make it as plain as I could but I didn't do very well did I.

I went to the Majestic this afternoon with Nash and another boy. I thought it was an awful good bill. I started to go up and see if I could lift the girl. Would you have wanted me to? They sang "I Know What it Means to be Lonesome," I started to throw something at them because I sure felt that way and I certainly know what it means.

Honey I am just afraid you are working to hard. I know you want to keep busy but I don't want you to try to do so much that you will get all nervous and out of sorts. Please don't will you not dear?

No honey we might have a selfish idea in not caring whether we see any of the bunch or not, but if they want to think themselves so much better than we are,- let them think- They'll wake up some day. I don't care about them anyway, you know that.

We have been getting along without them, so I guess we can get some more. They try to put on to many airs to suit me anyway. I love you darling that's all I care about.

