This is a picture of one of the torpedo boats destroyers I told you about. You can’t see anything but people. This picture was taken on board an interned Austrian steamer. The only thing that shows up real well is the length of the boat.