

---

Painless Learning

The Tuesday night College series has ended. Next fall they will begin again, with, we hope, an even larger average attendance than this past year.

Dr. Konstantin Kolenda, who organized the series, and all the professors who gave their time for lectures deserve a vote of thanks for giving students a painless dose of learning outside their fields of study, and for adding a pleasant note to our "academic atmosphere."

---