

Josh White Put Off

Folk musician Josh White will not be coming to Rice November 24, as originally planned.

The Student Center Board has sent a letter to White's agency requesting a postponement of the performance because of a concert featuring Peter Paul, and Mary, scheduled for November 22 at the Music Hall in Houston.

MEMBERS OF the Student Center Board feel that this would present too great a competition with the White concert. No reply to the letter has yet been received.

Since the present contract with White allows him a $1500 fee, or 60% of the gross, the concert on the original date would probably result in a loss to Rice. When asked what effect there would be if the contract had been signed and sent to White, S. A. President Mike Jaffe made "no comment."
