My dear Lyndall -

I found quite a pleasant surprise awaiting me when I came home. After the little supper in Austin I caught myself on several occasions wondering just what part of the world you had drifted to, and it is very pleasing to find you so close by.

The privilege of a visit with you should be sufficient bait for any man to come to Galveston - I know it is for me - so if it is agreeable with you I will drive down Saturday afternoon. I will phone you tomorrow at eleven o'clock to see if this plan is satisfactory. In the mean time please be thinking of just what you would like best to do.

Sincerely
