Questionnaires from 500 students have been returned to the SCEP office for the 1967 annual student course review. According to Peter Hollings, SCEP chairman, the response has been "gratifying," but 500 is still not close to the 2100 members of the student body.

The first round of reports, representing responses from a selected group of students, about selected courses that they are taking, need to be returned by Monday, to allow time for processing of the data and compilation of the report.

Hollings noted that other questionnaires will be placed in the colleges and RMC for students to make additional comments and to critique courses for which they did not receive the first question blank.

Evaluation forms that have been lost or misplaced can be replaced in the SCEP office in the RMC.
