Everyone Dances Through Weekend
By Wanda Phears and Ann Kriegel

Friday night the football and basketball teams were treated with a spring banquet at Brae Burn Country Club. The buffet dinner, including roast beef and Shrimp Newport, was followed by an evening of dancing. Sue Barden and Boyd King, Nancy Worrell and Lonnie Caddell, and Joyce Garrett and her fiance Frank Smith were among those enjoying the party.

Wiese Dance

Saturday evening the Wiese semi-formal was held at Sage-wood Country Club. Each girl was given a peppermint carnation corsage and the table decorations were also peppermint carnations. Dottie DeMoss and Francis Thompson, Martha Breedlove and Tony Turner, Evelyn Thomas and Roy Nolen danced to the music of Maynard Gimble's orchestra. Dr. and Mrs. Roy Talmage entertained the incoming and outgoing cabinet members and dates with a dinner at Plantation Manor before the dance.

The Baker semi-formal, at the Telephone Club, was also Saturday evening. Gene Swilley's combo played while Sue Painter and John Monroe, Fran Murphy and Carl Isgren, Mary Woodson and Merv Moore helped fill the dance floor. Max Burnett was master of ceremonies for the floor show composed of talented Baker musicians and singers.

Girls Wanted

It was practically an all-male crowd at the Student Center for the jam session Sunday evening. Gene Swilley's combo started out with Brubeck-type music, then John Fowler's group took over with Dixieland swing. Pat Woods and David Rosenberg entertained the crowd with their version of the Charleston. Sally Terrell, Puddy Peterson, Roland Jackson, and Jim Fox were among the dancers. The boys were disappointed to see so few girls come.
