

Cashier Reveals Where Fees Go: Exams Cheapest

If you're wondering where your money went, University Cashier Harold F. Fulbright offers the following breakdown of the $125 comprehensive fee paid by all students:

Blanket Tax. $12

Student Activities: $8

Athletic Association: $4

Memorial Center: $15

Colleges: $10

Health Service: $10

Registration: $25

Library: $25

Exams: $5

Lab Fee: $23

Several years ago the total fee was fixed at $80. According to Fulbright, science-engineering students were paying lab fees as high as $130 under this system.

To reduce these high fees and to equalize the charge for all students, the university decided to standardize the cost per individual lab at $20. To cover the laboratory expenses, all students were charged $23 as a part of the comprehensive fee.
