Rice admits more freshman early; one has perfect score on CEEBs

By BARI WATKINS
Thresher Reporter

Alan Demus of Canyon, Texas, admitted to next year's freshman class at Rice under the Early Decision plan, compiled six scores of 800 on his College Board Entrance Examinations.

Demus is one of five persons who have recorded perfect scores on the exams. He plans to come to Rice as a science-engineering student.

One hundred and ninety-six freshmen were admitted this year under the early decision plan. This selection was made from 303 applications.

Of the early decision admissions, 61 were from out-of-state and 136 were from Texas. 141 were boys and the other 55 were girls.

One hundred twenty-four of these students were admitted in the Science-Engineering curriculum of whom 109 were male and 14 were female.

Twenty-eight men and 38 women were admitted as Architects, and four boys and two girls were admitted as architects.

More freshmen were admitted under Early Decision this year than in the preceding two years during which the plan was under effect. In 1965 there were 123 admissions, and 193 were admitted in 1966.

Thus far over 1700 others have applied for admission in the fall of 1967 under the regular admission program.