

Four Lit Societies Take New Members In '59 Fall Rush

Four literary societies received new members this week with the completion of special rush. Eleven girls who attended a general party at Cohen House last Saturday signed their preferentials Monday.

New pledges of the Chaille Rice Literary Society are Gail Kemp, Doris Schol, Sarah Jo Wheeler, and Patsy Yale.

New Owls are Barbara Moore and Judy Norris.

Renee Lippman, Manya Brooke and Sarah Winchester joined the Pallas' Athene Literary Society, while Melanie Maxted and Janet Reynolds chose the Sarah Lane Literary Society.

The Lits welcomed their pledges Tuesday night with the CRLS holding an informal party at Nancy Bullard's and the OWLS, a get-together at the home of Carolyn Skebo.

Ann Shamblin was the hostess at the PALS calling-in party and the SLLS held a covered dish supper for the pledges at Betsy Graham's home.
