At the Senate Wednesday night, several announcements were made concerning social activities in Austin the weekend of the Texas game.

As was previously mentioned, the Senate will not sponsor a party in Austin. However, a group of Rice graduates now attending the University will sponsor a party Saturday afternoon from 1-4 p.m.

ADMISSION TO this dance and spirit session will be $2.50 a couple. Beer will be free. Following this party which will be in downtown Austin, there will be a pep-rally in front of the Stephen F. Austin Hotel.

Also, the University of Texas has extended an invitation to Rice students to a dance to be held in their Union Building after the game.

Stan Winters announced that an election will be held November 1 to choose a Homecoming Queen and a new Secretary-Treasurer of the Junior Class.

NOMINATIONS for Homecoming Queen will be made by members of the various college cabinets. On the basis of these nominations, twenty girls will be put on the ballot for the November 1 election.

Finally, Bethie Rollins reported that the Publications Board has received the status of Janus and has recommended its continued publication. Pat McGowan will remain as editor of the magazine and Byron Parker was approved as the new business manager.

It will be interesting to watch the progress of the Senate in the next few weeks. Several important issues are forming that will be of more than average concern to the student body as a whole.
