Welcome all you bright-eyed freshman and blurry-eyed upperclassmen. Our job this year is to keep you up to date with all the goings on, both inside and beyond the campus hedges. (Note: we said hedges, not bushes.) So be sure to smile at us at all the parties and dances and remember that anything . . . almost anything . . . you say or do may appear in this column.

Seems like some people just can't wait to get back on campus. A surprising number were out for the Blue-Gray game last week. Helping Jess Neely size up the boys for the coming year were Ranee Mulfins and Don Blair, Ann Petrus and Chic Sale, Gal Mercer and Gene Swilley, Pat Shannon and Norman Reynolds, Eleanor Powers and Willie Preston.

After the Final Whistle

After the game, a group of sophomore gathered at Anne Shamblin's home for dancing, bridge, and refreshments. Judy and Julie Norris, Robert Johnston, Mary Ann Calkins, Melvin Buck, Pat Woods, Neal Marcus, Leslie Cummings, Wesley Stokes, Renee Lipman, Dick Viebig, Pat Pizzitola, Brooke Hamilton, Sheila Johnson, John Eskridge, and Bob Wayt were there. Lots of luck to you boys on the team who will be reading this paper on your way to Baton Rouge. We're all backing you and those of us who can't be at the game will be watching you on TV.

Freshmen will get together for the first time as a class Saturday, September 10. To relax from a regimented week, they will gather at the gym for sports from 2 o'clock to 6:30 o'clock, or patriotically watch the big game on TV at the Memorial Center. A buffet dinner will be followed by informal dancing from 7 to 9:00 o'clock.

Class Parties, Parties, Parties
It's reunion time for all upperclassmen. Food and drink will fortify the juniors for a big party at Norman Reynolds' home, 9220 Chevy Chase. The party will be held Monday night at 7:30 o'clock. All juniors are invited—no dates necessary.

The same night of registration, when the dust has settled in the Memorial Center, the sophomores will get together. They will dance, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, to the juke box and forget about the "sophomores slump."

Seniors will start off their big year with an open house at the home of Ann Schudy, 804 West Frier Tuck. It, too, will be Monday night and all seniors are invited.

Help Needed

Due to expansion beyond our control, we need your help. Instead of a single society column, we have found ourselves responsible for filling two pages with more phases of student activities. Anyone interested in working with us as reporters should leave word in the Thresher office or contact either of us personally.

Wiest Fetes Jones Monday Evening

Wiest boys will be putting on coats, ties and big smiles Monday night when they have the Jones College freshmen all to themselves.

Music will be provided by Hal Kidder's seven piece band, and other assorted entertainment by Wiest boys themselves. Chauffeured cars will pick up the girls at Jones College shortly before 7:30 o'clock. Houston girls are urged to come to the dorms and be picked up there.

The guest list includes all Jones freshmen, officers and section leaders. Dressy dresses will be in order.
