‘On The Beach’ For Saturday Evening
By Wanda Phears and Ann Kriegel

“Come ready for the end of the world” to the Alabama Catering Service, 2020 Kipling, Saturday night. The NROTC Sextant is sponsoring an all-school party called “On the Beach.”

Ronnie Edwards and the Blue Notes will play from 9 o’clock until 1 o’clock. Tickets are $3.00 per couple or $1.75 stag, and this price includes set-ups. Beer will also be sold. Hal Gosnell, president of the Sextant, says that the entertainment will be watching the others at the party.

PALS and SLLS FORMALS
A New Orleans atmosphere will prevail at the PALS Formal tonight when the Rams Club will be adorned with French decor. A cocktail party and seated dinner will precede the dancing, for which Brock and Martin will provide the music.

The Texas Room of the Houston Club will be the scene of the SLLS Dinner and Formal, also tonight. The evening will begin at 5:30 o’clock with cocktails at the home of Linda Farfel. Breast of chicken with Roset wine sauce will be served at 7:30 o’clock at the Houston Club. Albino Torres has been booked for the dance and stags have been invited.

Life At Student Center
The Student Center finally came alive last Monday afternoon during the two-hour wait for the election results. Everyone was so nervous that they decided to turn on the juke box and shake on the dance floor. Carolyn Skebo and P. K. Williams won the jitterbug contest, and Tom Kelley was voted the suavest little man on the floor. This was so successful that the S. A. has announced there will be an election every Monday.

The Hanszen dance at the Jack Tar in Galveston last Saturday night proved to be a colorful affair. Only three people ended up in the swimming pool, which was beautifully lit by colored spotlights. Chuck Roeser provided the entertainment with his campaign speech for his friends.

Seen at the dance were Wayne Hanson and Sylvia Davis and Harry Lynch and the Norris twins.
