

Bridge Classes Planned By Rice Duplicate League

The Rice Duplicate Bridge League started play last Sunday with an encouraging number of players. This Sunday, an even larger crowd is foreseen for the League's first Master Point game.

SOON TO COME IS the inauguration of free bridge classes for beginners and experts alike.

The winners in the first week of play were: North-South; First — Bob Fletcher-Joe Parr, Second — Jack Rollier, Third — John Germann-Pat Karl; East-West; First — Jess Stuart - John Stephens, Second — Mike Wilson and John Monroe, Third — Mike McCants and Russ Brown.

THESE RESULTS do not count in the Thresher Trophy race, which begins Sunday, October 2.

Transportation to and from the Will Rice Commons will be available to members of Jones College who wish to play. The cars will leave Jones North at 1:45 p.m. on Sunday.

THE R.D.B.L. IS hoping to get some of Houston's nationally prominent bridge experts to teach an advanced class, in addition to the class for beginners. All classes will be free, but their existence will be determined by the response.
