Rayzor Hall To Be Built

Proposed Building To Provide Expansion Space For Humanities

By BUDDY HERZ
Thresher Editor

Plans are now being formulated and construction will begin soon on a new office and classroom building to be located opposite Anderson Hall in the Quadrangle.
The Thresher learned Thursday morning.

Generosity of Rayzors

The building, designed to relieve pressure on Anderson Hall and the basement of the Fondren Library, is made possible through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs.
J. Newton Rayzor and will be named Rayzor Hall.

It is designed to provide for future expansion in the Humanities and Social Sciences, in undergraduate work, space for faculty additions and the graduate student program.

Rice Grad, Trustee

Mr. Rayzor is a graduate of Rice, class of 1917. He is a trustee of the Institute, is chairman of the Committee on Faculty, Student and Alumni, and serves on (Continued on Page 5)
Rayzor Hall . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

the oil committee and outdoor sports committees of the school. Through his benevolence the J. Newton Rayzor chair of Philosophy and Religious Thought was established and the Rice Student Memorial Chapel became a reality.

The new building program was approved by the Board of Trustees at their monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon. Architects for the project are the firm of Staub, Rather, and Howze, the firm which designed Anderson Hall.

Larger Than Anderson

It is expected that the building will cost in excess of one million dollars. It will be modeled along the same lines as Anderson Hall, except that it will be somewhat larger.