SPLENDID BOULEVARD IS NOW OPENED BY MONSTER PARADE

NEW YEAR'S DAY MARKED THE COMPLETION OF THE GREAT ILLUMINATED WAY.

Her mann Park Rapidly Taking Shape Adds Much to the Beauty of the Spot

Which the Institute Is a Part.

On New Year's Day a long parade, headed by the magnificent Christmas tree, proceeded from the municipal bank, and composed of hundreds of automobiles containing members of the city administration and men and high officials of all the banks and the principal firms of Houston, proceeded slowly along the newly completed Main South Boulevard. Behind them passed the mighty carriages of the parade, as they proceeded new lights of dictation filling the street with an blaze of light and color, and the masses of people passing by. The horse-drawn carriages were illuminated with a myriad of lighted lamps; the carriages and the horses were draped with ribbons and flags, and the horses were decked with plumes and tassels.

The parade was a magnificent spectacle, and the city was decorated in a manner that will be long remembered.

RICE CAN ONLY BREAK EVEN WITH THE FARMERS IN TWO FAST GAMES

Great Rooting Section Cheers the Team On to Victory the First Night, But A. & C. Comes Back Strong the Next and Cannot Be Beaten.

Cheered on by one of the nearest and most enthusiastic sections in the City Auditorium in witness a brilliant game, the Owls defeated the A. & M. team Monday night by a score of 17 to 15, after running the ball the entire length of the field, and securing the ball over the horizon. In the second half the visitors came back strong, Gilliss, Sherman and Bridgett attacking the back of the Owls, but their rally was not successful. Tomfohrde, Dodge and Della Vallo were the best performers of the Owls; S. W. playing with splendid form, the team as a whole, and Della Vallo in particular, did not offer any resistance.

The Owls scored a good lead in the first part of the game, and though the Farmers fought desperately they were never able any time during the game to make the scores. In the second half the visitors came back strong, Gilliss, Sherman and Bridgett attacking the back of the Owls, but their rally was not successful. Tomfohrde, Dodge and Della Vallo were the best performers of the Owls; S. W. playing with splendid form, the team as a whole, and Della Vallo in particular, did not offer any resistance.

ATHLETIC FIELD IS READY FOR BASEBALL

Many Men Showing Up for Practice

Veteran infield in Rock-A-Good Schedule Has Been Arranged.

The old bleachers that keep watch on the field no longer look down on the familiar goal posts and gridiron with its ribbons of white lines. A smooth, trimmed, and shining lawn has been put in place. A new diamond has been cut into the old field, which has been moved in such a way that the taking down new water is supplanted by the new water and precaution to the student body ena have been confirmed by the Department of Biology, which claims to have isolated a colony of bacteria about the condition and confidence that is well known as the baseball bug. This season has issued warnings and precautions to the student body in the case of strange phenomena. The students have been warned to notify the instructor of any unusual occurrence.

Many men showed their interest in the baseball game by showing up for practice. The team has been cut into the old diamond ready for practice any time. The new baseball machine, which is to start in the near future, has been installed to exercise the batting cage. The team is very optimistic over the prospects for a good season, since the number out for the nine this year is much larger than any squad of former years. There are a great many promising players among the first year men, and these men have an excellent opportunity to win places on the team, provided they show promise of the ability and the same entire for the team. An inability to bat has probably the most marked weakness with the boys in the past, and it is to be hoped that these youngsters will do much to strengthen our offensive this year.

Coach Chandler is pleased and welcomes the large number of players who have reported for early practice. A younger team might offer more optimism for the prospects for a good team, since the number out for the nine is much larger than any squad of former years. There are a great many promising players among the first year men, and these men have an excellent opportunity to win places on the team, provided they show promise of the ability and the same entire for the team. An inability to bat has probably the most marked weakness with the boys in the past, and it is to be hoped that these youngsters will do much to strengthen our offensive this year.

The members of last year's infield, Biddle, Hodges, Arm, Capt. Chandler and McFarland, have all returned to hold their own in the practice. The pitching and batting have shown much promise. As in the case of the previous years, the left hander that has been a regular fixture in the line-up has been a left hander. The hitting is strong and is in fine condition for early spring drive.

The baseball team for this year is composed of nine men, who have all returned to hold their own in the practice. The number of men out for the nine is much larger than any squad of former years. Although the men were ordered to report for practice, several of them were not able to do so. Among these were Morton, who has moved out of the city, and Biddle, who has been transferred to another branch of the Institution. It seeks to show the men who attended the lectures, but it is understood that negotiations are on foot to secure them and bring them back to the college. It is hoped that there will be an improvement in the number of men who attend the lectures,

DR. GUERARD'S NEW BOOK IS PUBLISHED

"Five Masters of French Romance" Is Favorably Received by the Reading Public.

Comments of the most complimentary kind are being heard on all sides concerning Dr. Guerard's new book, "Five Masters of French Romance."

This volume has been met with the attention lectures delivered by the author at the Institute last year. Those in whose possession it will not be altogether new to those who attended the lectures, but it will be of great interest to all students at the Institution. It seeks to show the ideals and conditions of the age through a study of the characteristics of these five French novelists, which is, by the way, exactly the purpose laid down by Dr. Guerard for his English 400 course. The publishers are, therefore, very confident that the volumes will do much to strengthen the young men among the first year men, and cannot play. Haywood is out for the first year from last year's pitcher to return, but several Freshman have been chosen in addition. By this means the team will be reinforced and strengthened. Although no more have reported as yet, it is supposed that quite a number will be out before the season begins.

The 1917 schedule is much better than that of last year. In the case of Leland Stoughton, Jr., University of Oklahoma, there will be a good chance for the State championship.

Although the men were ordered to report for practice, several of them were not able to do so. Among these were Morton, who has moved out of the city, and Biddle, who has been transferred to another branch of the Institution. It seeks to show the men who attended the lectures, but it is understood that negotiations are on foot to secure them and bring them back to the college. It is hoped that there will be an improvement in the number of men who attend the lectures,

THE TROPHY CASE HAS AT LAST ARRIVED; IS A WORK OF ART

During the Christmas recess there was received by the Institute the beautiful trophy case presented to the college by Mr. W. M. Rice, a member of the board of trustees. The case was set up in Room 103 of the Administration building, where it may be viewed by all who desire. It is of pressed glass and provides space for almost any number of trophies which may be won in the succeeding years by Rice students.

The cabinet was designed in the Boston office of Cass & Ferguson, the pre-eminent architects of the Institute. The case measures about twenty feet long, twelve feet in height and four feet in depth. The general plan consists of four bays on each side richly carved, with plate glass placed in the sides above a height of three feet.

During in hand ceremony by Mr. W. F. Rice of Cambridge the cabinet is executed in solid white oak and is handsomely hinged some of the pressed work, and appear to be in the style of the period of cabinet making. Carved in the top is a Medallion representing the United States, while the left of the front is a small figure of the founder of the college. On behalf of the undergraduate body the President expressed appreciation for this precious gift.

On the statement was made that a new meet-the-talist edition of The Thresher containing the cases that the Council informs us that this is not strictly true at the present time. The cases have been disposed of.

We believe the Honor System is in high-structure the life of some human being and by expressing hearty appre- ciation to other achievements of like sort. Again, The Thresher wishes to em- phasize that we may have caused.

Another thing we like that the Coun- cil has done is having us cut to some extent the old-time examiner. They are a marked improvement over the old regulations and will, we believe, be appreciated by the students.

The non-effectiveness of the old sys- tem was clearly brought out at the close of last term by the number and size of the bills sent out to the students for unexcused absences. Statistics on the total number of bills for last term show that almost all the bills probably have not been publishing. That they were large enough to assume the passing of stringent regulations, it is to be hoped, for it is apparent that cutting is latter a week in a course would amount to being of the sort that, and that the low is a personal one. As instruc- tors are in many cases unable to make him hear lecture so interesting that the student has no desire to spend the hour in some- where entertaining way, but he is pretty sure to impair some little knowledge in that hour that he would not otherwise use on the examination.

A certain amount of secrecy, or at least the appearance of secrecy, in the minutes of the Council, but secrecy in a thing that does not give any result is, of course, mis- taken. If secrecy is to be used to make it lie, it means, superstitious and false. For this reason we say we are glad that the Council has reduced the secrecy feature to the minimum. While we understand the Council does not by any rule care for any great amount of publicity in its transactions, certainly the mere fact that these meet- ings are not to be open to all will have a good effect on the students' ac- tions. We suggest that at will and the Council in securing the cooperation of the students that is so vital in the working of the Honor System.

Another thing we like that the Coun- cil has done is having us cut to some extent the old-time examiner. They are a marked improvement over the old regulations and will, we believe, be appreciated by the students.

FOOTBALL HEROES FAIL CHRISTMAS

The Freshman class paid a well-deserved tribute to two of its football heroes, Mr. Henry Reyband and Mr. R. G. Dodge, for their services to the team during the past season.

RICE DEFEATS SOUTH-WESTERN IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Though the Rice men were the more skilful in the game, they were not able to win the game for Duke Valley. For two quarters, Vance played his usual running game, which made his opponents somewhat wary of getting close to him when he starts down the field a little in the second quarter. The Rice men were not allowed to come in the game to work, and they were the reputation of the Institute was encouraged, not to mind the varying size of the field. The fact was, that Rice was too good a student to be allowed to work on the publication for the past several months, and his faithfulness and service on the Rice men was vacated by the resignation of Mr. Herol Egan.

FRANTIC FISH FLEES FROM THE WRAP TO COME

"For God's sake, drive, man, and don't kill me," they shouted.

The man with the wrap drove, and the fish was released.

"You're trying to kill me," she cried.

With hair disheveled, wild eyes, and pressing the gun to his head, he was trying to kill the police.

The man was arrested.

COLLEGE NOTES

On January 11, 1917, the first meeting of the German club was held in Room 105.

The program consisted of two numbers: a song by the club, held before Christmas, and the following resolution by the new president, Miss Hindeman, president.

"The club is looking forward to the finals. Beautiful sterling silver trophy cups are to be given to the winner and the club is looking forward to the finals.

"Resolved: That a compulsory arbitration law should be enacted to alleviate labor disputes on railroads and other common carriers."
