HUGE SUCCESS OF BOAT RACE IS CAUSE OF JOY.

Saturday morning looked bright for the crowd who had gathered by the shore of the lake. The sun shone brightly just before noon and the water was calm. At eleven o'clock, the Institute and the University were ready to begin.

The entries were as follows:
Institute - Miss Alois Minni
University - Miss Birtie

Institute won the race by a margin of two lengths. The crowd cheered loudly and the Institute team emerged as the champions of the day. The festivities continued into the afternoon with picnics and games.

To The "REAL" ONE

The words "To the real one" were written in the program:

"To the real one, our dear friend."

The message was addressed to Miss Alois Minni, who had been selected as the "real one" at the annual ball.

REFLECTIVE OF THE TIMES

In the final address of the event, Mr. Draper spoke of the importance of reflecting on the times we live in. He emphasized the need for us to be mindful of the changes happening around us and to embrace the opportunities that come with them.

GOD USE OF GOOD

In a final note, the program concluded with a message to use good:

"God uses good, never evil, in all things."
THE THRESHER, MAY 19, 1919

A dramatic event of the spring season—Miss Harris, her husband, and daughter and son-in-law were in a horse-drawn wagon on the street, when a sudden gust of wind blew the horse from under the wagon, causing it to overturn. The family was unhurt, but the horse suffered severe injuries. Police officers on the scene immediately rendered aid to the horse, which was later taken to a veterinary hospital for treatment. The family expressed gratitude for the prompt action of the police and the hospital staff in caring for the injured animal.

favor of Constantinople as a constitutional monarchy. A few days later new elections were held, but with the same result. The Czar joined in the revolt, but his strength was in- doubt, due to the defection of some of his own subjects. The uprising was put down, but the revolution, as it was, was steadily in- creased. The "Decembrist" movement was started.

It was immediately after the Paris Congress of 1856 that we witnessed the "Decembrist" movement in Russia, and in 1872 the important "Duma" movement was started in St. Petersburg. It had its ramifications as Metaphysical, Empirical, and Nationalism.

The object of both was to carry out the demands of the revolution, and the Socialist movement among the workers and peasants. But a most powerful current which carried the "Decembrists" along with the "socialists" current, was that of the peasants, who firmly believe that the land is a gift from God, and that they have a right to it.

The period of "Terrorism" which was so redoubtable, does not accept a single principle on faith with whatever respect that principle may be entertained.

This Nationalism movement was followed by the "Russian spirit", which was based on the idea that the Government of the country was a people's gift, which took shape in the reign of Alexander II, and whose character in Turgeniev's novel "Fathers and Sons" is recognized by all who bow not before any authority whatever, does not accept a single principle on faith with whatever respect that principle may be entertained.

The revolution had been accomplished in Russia, we overtake another movement, which took shape in the reign of Alexander II, and whose character in Turgeniev's novel "Fathers and Sons" is recognized by all who bow not before any authority whatever, does not accept a single principle on faith with whatever respect that principle may be entertained.

IS REVOLUTIONARY RUSSIA TO TEACH THE WORLD?

The Russians contend that the Soviet regime is the most democratic government that is now in existence. The so-called expropriations in Russia are not by the map but by the shop. That is to say, much property was announced expropriation, in proportion to the numerical strength of the group, starts its way to the Soviet. Thus the aspect of it is made up by representatives, not of districts, but of economic interests.
