B.E. SMITH WINS CAMPANILE PRIZE.

After more than a month of heated rivalry in "suckling" and "carnaby-shark" the Campanile Board has awarded a prize of $50.00 to Beulah E. Smith, of the Freshman Class. The decision was arrived at unanimously in the early part of last week.

The excellent collection will be in future "Carnaby-shark".

Editor Bloomington, at releasing the decision, remarked, "It's quite a surprise. We thought the battle for the prize would have been long ago. We know the school is perishing with the original "Anita. We have been arranging for the presentation of the prize, but I'm afraid the school is perishing."

The students of the Freshman Class have met the decision with enthusiasm, and are preparing for the presentation in the early part of the week.

MRS. ASA C. CHANDLER DIES SUDDENLY

The students and faculty were gravely surprised to learn of the death of Mrs. A. C. Chandler last week. Mrs. Chandler had been ill for some time, but her condition was never looked on as extremely serious, and so her death was a shock to the academic community.

The body will be taken to California for burial, which will necessitate Dr. Chandier’s absence for the remainder of the term. Dr. Edgar Altenburg has kindly consented to take charge of Dr. Chandier’s classes.

Mrs. Chandler’s absence for the remainder of the term will be taken charge of Dr. Chandier’s classes. Friends and students designate her as a frequent chaperon at the various social functions of the university.
