All Rice Extends Royal Welcome to Taft

Ex. Pres. Taft Guest at Institute

Inaugurates Godwin Lectures

Lt. Col. Godwin was the guest of honor at the Institute banquet on Monday, April 26, by the President Students’ Association and the Student Council at the annual V.F.W. ball. President Smith presided at the banquet.

Mr. Taft arrived on the campus Wednesday after a 3000 mile trip, accompanied by Mr. Herbert Godwin and Dr. Lott, invited guest, and several of the students of Rice Institute. Mr. Taft was waiting to greet the distinguished visitor. At noon, while he was invited to lunch with the students, with the exception of Dr. Lott, who was on the committee of arrangements, the others were awaiting the guest in the dining hall.

The guests of the Institute then lined up in the commons and each had the privilege of shaking the massive hand of Professor Taft. He had a smile and a word for every student and was courteous to the last detail. The arrangements made for the hour that he spent among the students were make. Free with him, as has been with other guests of this Institute in similar situations.

When the students gathered in the institute auditorium, the president and his friend announced that Mr. Taft would address them.

Mr. Taft then rose and addressed the students. His talk was on the topic of "Leadership," and he delivered it with the same keenness of mind and perception for the affairs of the world that make him a leader in the world of politics and government.

The Institute cordially invites Mr. Taft to return any or all time he is available to address the students, or with any topic of interest to the students.

Luncheon at Commons.

A luncheon in honor of Dr. Lott was held at 12:30 o'clock, and was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Taft, President Smith, and Mr. Godwin. Mr. Taft was this hour, and was the guest at the luncheon. The guests were entertained by Dr. Lott, who made a speech of welcome.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Mr. Taft presented a gold medal to the Institute, and a gold medal to the President Students’ Association. Mr. Taft presented a gold medal to the Institute, and a gold medal to the President Students’ Association.

Lecture at Auditorium.

"Comparison of Republican and Democratic Principles." Dr. Lott delivered an address on the comparison of Republican and Democratic principles. He delivered the lecture on the comparison of Republican and Democratic principles.

The lecture was attended by a large audience, and was a very interesting lecture, as the lecturer is well known for his good sense and his clear thinking.

To the Institute.

We cordially invite Mr. Taft to return to the Institute at any time he is available. He is a guest of the Institute, and it is the wish of the Institute to invite him to return any time.

OVERALLS!!

Rice Hard Hit by Rag

The "Overalls Mob" and students throughout the nation have discarded the male form of dress. Overalls have been adopted by the senior class in order to save them and obviate the possibility of future alterations. The Juniors are satisfied that the overalls suit them, while the Sophomores are not so sure, but they will not be asked about it.

Conservatives are required to write all of the Penfield-Hall and South-Hall bills, and will not insert the high cost of living into any of their letters.

OVERALMS!!

Girls will be allowed to wear overalls if desired, and the overalists at present is not more than two.

The majority of female students look upon the wearing of overalls as a mere novelty, as something "out of the way." They do not derive any financial benefit if we continue to wear overalls, and we will save money if we purchase them.

The overall is a literary form of dress. The Juniors are satisfied with what they have. Not content with their present form of dress, they will spend until a reaction toward economy will be initiated.

The Overalists at present are not more than two, and the rest of us have spent! spent! spent! only a lad's mother could love them.

The system of economy which it is now proposed to adopt is not very much of a sacrifice in itself, and it is hoped that it will not have to be disapproved of. The overalls have been adopted in order to save them and obviate the possibility of future alterations.

The overall is a literary form of dress. The Juniors are satisfied with what they have. Not content with their present form of dress, they will spend until a reaction toward economy will be initiated.
