A RICE C.C. EXPLAINED.

A RICE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE would have its origin from the student body as a whole, though it might be started by the Council. Its membership would not be limited, but would permit the entrance of all students actually interested in the work and whose presence in outside pursuits permitted by the "joining" box could readily be forthcoming.

Financial support would come partly from dues paid by the members and partly from contributions made by the RICE citizens, the assessment for its support might well be incorporated in the blanket tax.

The purpose of the club would be primarily that of BOOSTING. To boost for Rice, to boost Houston, to boost education in general. We would dedicate ourselves to no more worthy task than that of boosting for and spreading abroad knowledge of our Alma Mater.

That good will that we can as an individual derive from it? You will have the satisfaction of knowing that you are doing something worth while.

You will increase the value of your degree, and of your "sheepskin." A diploma, though honestly earned, is meaningless without the logical education which is granted it. It is universally known and recognized. You will get practical experience which will be to your benefit in the business world which you will soon enter; you will bring an idea of business methods and pursue it into the cloister of the university.

Will we increase the number of students? The answer is without doubt, yes! But we have no more room for increased attendance at present.

We will then have to make room, and should it not happen, we will increase our waiting list, and then will get the pick of prospective students to the University. If the overflow from Stanford one has said, goes over from Rice, I go to other places.

What banking are we to expect in undertaking this project? The pledge of the Rice Chamber of Commerce, with its excellent manager, Mr. Brickey, and his wide experience; the aid of the Rice University Chamber of Commerce, which is affiliated with such larger communities as the Texas Commerce, West Texas C. of C., and the East Texas C. of C.; and (we may depend on it) the moral support of our own university administrators and trustees.

Leland Stanford has a C. of C. and her waiting list. Why not Rice have a C. of C. and her waiting list?

GYM EQUIPMENT FOR THE FIELD HOUSE.

NOW THAT THE FIELD HOUSE is completed and open for the practice of the basketball squad, attention should be particularly paid to the gymnastic equipment, which to secure the best results should now be on hand that it may be placed, classes organized and the initial work begun. The classes in physical culture may seriously undertake their work immediately after Thanksgiving Day, should they get under way in time and before the holidays.

Though the academic department wants the classes to be held in the afternoon, and the science departments urge that they be held in the morning, such a situation should not be allowed to hold up the classes. Let them be begun at noon, and argue later. Time must not be wasted at the beginning of the work. It is urgent and imperative.

We have already delayed far too long. At this time, the university could not establish nothing which will bring greater and more lasting benefits.

Our health is best developed; it is necessary that all the students keep their bodies at the same standards of progress. The major sport competition merely gives development to the minority, so fortunately encouraged as to be able to make the majority teams. The physical culture classes will give development to the large majority of less fortunate individuals.

Next year's homecoming—how many more familiar faces there will be?

Do we want better students?—Then the Rice Chamber of Commerce is the solution.

Strong, manly men are what we most need at Rice, and that is what we are going to have when the classes in physical culture start.

Each and every alumnus must feel at home. It depends upon you whether they have that sensation. Get out and find out to entertain if they all seem taken.

Ain't it a shame? What? Everybody can't go to their old reception-dance. But then we all go to their old reception-dance. Ain't it a shame? What? A Realization of the Dream of William Marsh Rice's Gift to Education.

(Republished from the 130th Annual of the Houston Post, by permission of Dr. Edgar Odell Lovett.)

By Dr. Edgar Odell Lovett, President

A dozen years ago when a representative of the trustees of Rice Institute arrived in my city itwas evident that some one had been at work. I recall it by a vivid survival of nervous upset that was too often so vivid in those days. We had set in motion the foundation of the University of Rice.

The University was founded in 1900, on the site of the first residential hall of the new institution. It was a university of the new generation of the 20th century, and its relationships with the new foundation. It was a university of great promise, and its destiny was then bright, and it was in a parlous position. So, in a word, to go back ten years, we find ourselves in the midst of the conflict between the more old-fashioned viewpoints and the more recent actualities. The problem was a difficult one. It was a problem of a number of endowed professorships, of the establishment of a number of endowed chairs, of the establishment of a number of endowed endowed chairs, of the establishment of endowed
