EPISTOLIC STUDENTS OF TEXAS ARE WITH US THIS WEEK END

Cranmer Club of Rice to Act as Hosts for the Visitors—Heavy Program

The Episcopal Students Council of the Texas Deanery will hold its annual meeting Monday in Houston. Students from Rice and from other Texas schools are expected in attendance at the meeting, coming from Texas A & M, A. & M. at Bryan, Rice College for Women, Houston, Baptist College at Georgetown, the Medical College at Galveston, and all the other Southern schools. The out-of-town delegates are expected to arrive in time for a noon meeting Monday morning, some of them coming a little early for the Rice & A. & M. football game this afternoon.

The headquarters of the visiting students is the Big Rice Dormitory, and the meeting will be held at the Cranmer Club at the Cranmer Club of the Community House. The visiting students will be entertained at a Cranmer Club institute same time Saturday by Dr. Shepherd Stimson, a member of the board of directors of the Episcopal Students Council for the South. The Cranmer Club is the organization of students of the Episcopal Church, and the meeting will be held at the Cranmer Club of the Community House.

The Cranmer Club of the Cranmer Club of the Community House, one of the most active in the country, will be represented by Professor J. D. Stimson, president of the Cranmer Club, whose students will be entertained at a Cranmer Club institute same time Saturday by the Cranmer Club of the Community House.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in the Cranmer Club of the Community House. The meeting will be opened by the Cranmer Club of the Community House, and the meeting will be held at the Cranmer Club of the Community House.

The Cranmer Club of the Cranmer Club of the Community House will provide entertainment for the visiting students, and the meeting will be held at the Cranmer Club of the Community House.

WAKE UP THE LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are men at Rice who are interested in public life, and in the problems of the day—but no one would ever guess

With the exception of the Rice Forum, a society composed largely of the younger town, men, Art Societies, and Sophomores, the men's literary societies have suffered a severe relapse. The framework is there of the large Ola and Rice-ian societies, organized on the usual plan of the literary society, and of the more limited and powerful Rice-Congressional Club. But the framework is all. The Engineers and the Pre-Meds seem to have carried all the pep and enthusiasm.

Rice is not entirely a technical school; the arts department is being strengthened and diversified. But if the literary man expects to amount to anything as a whole, they will have to get prepared to dispute the field of achievement with the engineers.

It would be hard to imagine a more practical step in the men's literary society than the Congressional Club. There have been few clubs organized on this plan at other schools, but there are such clubs at Cornell and Dartmouth, and at the universities where arts students can attain, it is granted only after a favorable action by the society on a ten to twenty thousand word thesis, and it is limited, as Rice, to twelve or fifteen men. The members of some of the best vanity debating clubs in the United States are students of Congress. The Congressional Club here was suggested and its organization was supervised by a member of a Congressional Club at another university. There are a number of such clubs of similar history and influence.

None of the societies need any more organizing or supervising. All they need is a display of all life and interest on the part of their members. Surely all the arts men haven't graduated, and there would be useful timber. The men who belong to these clubs, and insist that these men call meetings; after they are called, see that you go to them.

AT THE GAME TONIGHT.

HARE HALF DOZEN of students are there, calling themselves men of Rice, but who are the right of attendance at any university, or of the privilege of membership in any group of gentlemen, that the space devoted to their chauvinism is not due to them; first, because they are not worthy the recognition of a society organ, and second, because they never notice it, after it is given, so utterly devoid are they of any semblance of dignity to be found in anything but the headlines, partly because they would be unable to digest it, should it be fed to their faces. It is to be hoped that college opinion will be so directed against them as to cause them to feel the true spirit of our forefathers, or darken the horizon. None of them would have any more interest in our college opinion than that of property equipment the band.

Rice does not advertise this game. Rice is its big business and the band is Rice's full pay. Not only is the band large and widely circulated before the game; it can obtain re-
