In this day of all lives related almost entirely to the world of tomorrow, with the end of the war, the future becomes largely a matter of speculation. If there is a single branch of our economy that has grown so much out of the great war as it has, it is the women workers. The textile factories, plants, and offices everywhere reecho the shout of the new industry with its promise of good wages, good facilities, and good surroundings.

The war has made us more conscious than ever that we are on the threshold of new economic and social relations. It has taught us that we must make more room for the woman in the community and the home. It has shown us that we cannot live without her as a factor in all our institutions.

The spirit of the real femininity is coming back to us. The ideal of a woman is being changed from that of a housewife to that of a woman whose life is full of activity, whose work is full of purpose, whose aims are high and whose life is rich in contentment.

The ideal school for women is one that is conscious of the right of every woman to participate in the work of the world. It is one that is able to give her a voice in the work of the world. It is one that is able to give her a voice in the solution of the problems of the world. It is one that is able to give her a voice in the solution of the problems of the world.

The Rice Institute takes it up its new year's problems. The Y. M. C. A. of Rice University rests college students of this day. It will try out another program conceiving failures, in the burning hope that they may prove the work of the world.

There are social affairs in abundance, and a number of social clubs that have always been prominent in the life of Rice Institute, a visit that is shown quite clearly in the elections of the past year. The Rice weekly newspaper, the year book, the college authorities in helping the student who desires to stay with the school, or to drop out of the school, is shown quite clearly in the elections of the past year.

Louisiana Club is Started at Rice.

Another stop toward a more full association among Rice alumni is that of the Louisiana Club, composed of the graduates of the State University and its junior college. The club was organized on a recent past week, and a banquet was held Friday night and the following day. R. M. Bales, president, was present.

When you come here, and especially if you are a Louisiana graduate, you'll find many that are extremely pleasant.

The people, when you learn how to please them, are delightful. It is unfortunate that the American is a friend and is beloved by the English, Germans, and French. He is in a very friendly attitude, and it is easier to make friends with him in England or France than in America.

AXSON CHOOSE TO DIRECT MAY FEST

The Woman's Council has been working diligently on plans for the May festival. Faculty members and students are responding readily to help make the council's first effort a success.

Imperfect in the eyes of some, the festival will start in the auditorium on May 9th and will last through the 11th.

The Honorable University of Rice has set aside the auditorium for the event.

Next week each class must steel itself and four days later the festival in turn chooses a theme.

Each of the classes must also submit a project in line with their theme. The projects will be exhibited in the auditorium, where they will be on view from May 9th to May 11th.

American Mall To Attract Students

Rice has always been a haven for students. Many special events have been held in the auditorium to attract students.

The American Mall, a student-run business, is being considered for the auditorium. The mall will be open from May 9th to May 11th.

The mall will feature a variety of vendors, including clothing, jewelry, and food stalls.

Rice students have been active in organizing the mall. The mall will be open from 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM daily.

LA TRAVIATA AND THE ENGINEERS

Mary Garden's Rendition of Carmen Considered Wonderful.

Mary Garden's interpretation of Carmen especially pleased the audience. Her voice was clear and powerful, and her performance was expressive.

The opera was well received by the audience, who were impressed by Garden's ability to convey the emotions of the character.

Rice Owls Win Close Game from Central

The Rice Owls defeated Central 7-6 in an exciting game. The Owls scored in the bottom of the 9th inning to win the game.

In the 9th inning, the Owls loaded the bases with two outs. After a sacrifice fly, the Owls scored the winning run on a bunt single by Catcher John Johnson.

The Owls out-hit Central 10-9, but Central's pitcher, Pitcher Mark Miller, kept the Owls from scoring more runs.
