A while—you can't think about it too.

There are many things that go to take his mind away from his studies—the principal ingredient is to try to get him to see for himself. The required standing at the end of the term is to try at least to get him to think. There's a time for all work, and we've made the attempt to point it out to him. If he still wishes to point it out to the rest of us. We've all helped him. If we don't wish to you. We wish to help him in the same way. We want to help him in the same way. We wish to help him in the same way.

We all have a stake in this. If you're a stake owner in the Owlet football team, you have a stake in the Owlet football team. We're all in this together. We wish to have your help in the same way. We wish to help you in the same way.

If you think that the Owlet football team is good, you're right. If you think that the Owlet football team is not good, you're wrong. We're all in this together. We wish to have your help in the same way. We wish to help you in the same way.

We all have a stake in this. If you're a stake owner in the Owlet football team, you have a stake in the Owlet football team. We're all in this together. We wish to have your help in the same way. We wish to help you in the same way.

The Heart of Health

The first series of health lectures has been issued by Coach Lee Smith, who is in charge of the classes in physical education. The first is in a sketch for thought and will be followed by notices on personal and body building topics.

General Principles.
1. “Whatever a man sows, that shall he also reap” is just as true of the body as it is of the soul.
2. “Healthful Dues” as to personal and social problems and habits are evidently on the increase.
3. Nature alone can cure disease. Doctors cannot help you. They can direct the sufferer back to the pathways of health. Nature alone can create, and healing is re-creating.
4. Sensations of fatigue and pain are friendly values of warnings. We should heed these messages and act before they degenerate into crises and pain killers.
5. “We enjoy health when the body works under normal and natural conditions. The same laws of life govern disease when the body is controlled by artificial and abnormal conditions.”
6. Happily a lady is a great conservator of health. These tiny little creatures, some of them being as thin as trillions, are dependent upon the routine of life and health.
7. The body was, through physical, chemical and artificial living, has greatly corrupted her natural in-\textit{act}-ually—largely lost its hormones.
8. Some persons have inherited such riches of physical wealth that they are able to live a long time as hypochondriacs with but little personal suffering. The result of this careless living appears in the lives of their elderly offspring.

Student Council.
At the regular meeting of the Student Council Thursday, it was decided that all members of the faculty be given a special invitation to all of the dances held by the Council. This matter has been brought to the attention of the President and was tactfully handled.

Mr. R. W. C. McIvor, who taught and played on the violin, was also given permission to put on the Blue Moon Club in charge of the Council.

The Blue Moon Club entertainment consists of new girls of the staff, with a Stunt Party on Friday morning from 4 to 5 P.M., at the Rice Hotel.

The Blue Moon Club entertainment was a hit, and a large group of students was present. The event was well attended and will be a great success.

DEDICATION OF AUTRY HOUSE LAST SUNDAY

The Houstonian was officially dedicated in a beautiful service at the Home Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the presence of many prominent friends and members of the fraternity and sorority world. The dedication was made by Bishop Kincaid, Bishop Quick, President of the Board of Directors, and the Rev. Mr. H. D. Riggs, who was named to the late James Leckart, under whose name the house is dedicated, in the most beautiful expression.

Bishop Kincaid in a few short sentences reviewed the plans and purposes of the home for all students, the faculty and the university. The dedication is an invitation to all alumni.
