RULES TO TAKE EFFECT JANUARY 20

Paddles and Belts Must Be Cast Aside; Other Rules To Be Obeyed

Abolition of indiscriminate hazing of freshmen will go into effect about January 20 unless contrary petitions are presented and the council to get their later view of the matter. It would eliminate the enforcement of these hazing rules.

It is proposed to have theFreshman basketball squad, however, it will take over by Head Coach P. A. Arthurs immediately. The resignation of Mr. Mann will mean a setback to Freshman basketball, probably in hand. No discussion has been reached as to how the Fraternity will be managed for the rest of the year.

Mr. Mann stated that his determine to stop the indiscriminate hazing that has gone on for years is for the benefit of nobody. Every effort was made to get the Freshman basketball squad, however, it will take over by Head Coach P. A. Arthurs immediately.

The increasing work and that of taste year, only increasing activities. The intended disposal of the funds has been somewhat larger than anticipated. It is hoped that the students will cooperate by committees, and there will be readiness for the committees when the campaign will be carried on.

In Russia and explanation of the exact possibilities under a new series of conditions.

A. needs no explanation. The Y. M. C. A. is attempting to do away with hazing and it is feared that the sentiment in this direction will be settled, and that everything will be arranged along much better.

There are many good students among those who did not receive a letter for football receive a letter. But the worthy of admiration than this spirit remains known how to study for university courses and are able to get along much better.

The Thresher staff is glad to be able to present the front page, then find out just how much you can possibly spare and then find out just how much you can possibly give. Then find out just how much you can possibly save and when the committee calls on you, be sure to have all the money you can scrape up. Here is the way to do it. If you are a member of the committee will take your pledge to the president and the president will have to pay the pledge any time before the term expires.

deal with football, and yet does not receive a reward for distinguished service, as some other student of greater ability might, it is just as much appreciated.

I want to take this means to thank all those who did not receive a letter for their efforts in doing all that they have been able to do in this connection. In father I believe I am voicing the sentiments of the student body and the athletic committee. In the near future I think we will see a more thorough discussion of the whole subject, for after this talk, they will be ready to consider the whole subject.

What Is a Vacuum Furnace?

As an ordinary furnace material burns or combine with the oxygen of the air. Molten zinc, cadmium, or lead in an ordinary furnace and a scorch of "dross" appears, an impurity formed by the oxygen. You see it in the lead pots that plumbers use.

In a vacuum furnace, on the contrary, the air is withdrawn so that the heated object cannot combine with oxygen. Therefore in the vacuum furnace impurities are not formed.

Clearly, the chemical processes that take place in the two types are different, and the difference is important. Copper, for instance, is formed as a result of the reaction of the impurities, which is copper.

So the vacuum furnace has opened up a whole new world of chemical investigation.

The Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company have been exploring this new world solely to find out the possibilities under a new series of conditions.

Yet there have followed practical results highly important to industry. The absence of oxygen, for instance, has enabled catalytic converters to combine metals and form new alloys heretofore impossible. Indeed, the vacuum furnace has stimulated the study of metalurgy, which has turned out to be indispensable to culminates responsible for production of metals in quantities.

And this is the result of scientific research.

Discover new facts, add to the sum total of human knowledge, and sooner or later, in many unexpected ways, practical results will follow.
