Tomorrow Afternoon

The basketball team will meet S. M. U. tomorow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock on the Y. M. C. A. court, either to share honors with the Methodist team or win both the games played with Rice. It will be an uphill pull, for the one game has already been lost.

That game would not have been placed in Houston. Why? Because a bunch of Rice roosters can put into a team that will carry them across— that is, they can get the fight into the team if they will come out and try it.

Let's all turn out and give that team all we have—they will give us all the they have.

MIDNIGHT MEDITATIONS.

Our red-headed girl says she can follow a signature down to a dot at a glance. Her only chance to be right is that she is very clever and able to read signatures. She is studying to be a good detective in case she should be needed.

Her red head is a rare commodity, for it is not often that such a head appears on a woman. She is a true detective, for she can read signatures and detect forgeries with ease.
