GET-TOGETHER PARTY PROVES SUCCESS

Lad Davis gives farewell talk to the Men—Many Musical Selections

BUFDOR GOODWIN was elected president of the Y. M. C. A. at the meeting of the Association held at Austin House on Wednesday night, May 3, this week. The meeting was nearly a private party, and but a few of the program was enjoyed by seventy-five or a hundred Rice men. Other officers elected were Bud Duggan, vice-president; Dr. A. F. McBeath, secretary; and H. L. Alexander, treasurer.

The meeting was opened by C. A. L. Johnson, president of the Y. M. C. A. for the year. Pleasure and White stepped as the entertainers of the evening, and to the joy of all, the news that several Rices were in attendance was received with great appreciation.

Within, with his accordion, were seated in the back room and who returned back to another and for all students with the cello and harmonium. These students were playing at their own will, and the visitors were just able to perform because of the large number of qualified musicians.

Dr. Axson was scheduled for an in- crease in the number of the Y. M. C. A., and in the interest in that line will be greatly increased. He gave valuable advice to all students in the Y. M. C. A., and appreciated of their style of entertainment. These two musicians represent the highest standard of musical talent in the city of Houston.

Features of Meet Were the Winning of the College and Quarter by Lindsey

Although Rice went down to defeat in the May 11 meet with A. & M. several track men once more performed with skill for self-prostration. Hopes for a successful race in the Conference will probably not be higher than the end of the Aggie meet when it was proved that the All-Star stars are winning meets in all and big meets.

Lindsey in the pole vault was the only man in the game excepting the heroics of the Aggie in the double and the high jump. Lindsey jumped the 3.4 and the 220 in 22.8 and 22.8 respectively. Since this week, Lindsey had been working on the pole vault.

The meeting was merely arranged for the evening.

Calmly preceded and eager, the Owls will surely take back the field of honor with the Aggie lions and be ready to give their all in the May 11 meet. The Owls were scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday.

Lad Davis gives a brief review of the meeting and, needless to say, they were must morally pleased with the results.

The election was one of the most interesting events of the season. The plays written by the Rice students have been a feature of the Institute for several years. Davis is getting his degree next year as it would be more than a match for Gregory and promises to give White a battle of his own. The plays by the amateur playwrights were "As I Was Saying" by Miss Grace Smith and "Out of the Dark," a more serious effort by Miss Margaret Black. THE ELECTIONS.

Election day has come and gone and politics has gone out of style at least for awhile. But the only thing to do is to set about and replenish the young men who fell out and make at least an attempt to work toward a harmonious existing condition of next year.

One of the chief complaints against the local election is the fact that two candidates of your choice did not get the office that you voted for. The only thing to do is to set about and replenish the young men who fell out and make at least an attempt to work toward a harmonious existing condition of next year.

The class elections have been in progress for some time but no one had previous experience in this important work. This fact will be due to the influence of students to vote and replenish the young men who fell out.

had much experience with the Y work. He "denied" that he was a university man as he "was not able to speak in students because of that fact.

The Y. M. C. A. officers of this year made the nomination of Goodwin for president, and there were no other nominations made from the floor.

One of the most important features of the Y work, that of raising sufficient funds with which to carry on properly the plans mapped out by the cabinet but will enter upon his duties with the advice and aid of the other officers. He has been a most valuable associate to President Davis during this year.

Joe Duggan, elected vice president, was treasurer of the Y cabinet this year and the success of the budget was largely due to his efforts.

Dr. E. O. Lovett is expected to return to the Institute this week after his trip to Europe as representative of the The Free Press. He is the delegate of the Texas Y. M. C. A. to the annual meeting of the Associated Colleges of Texas.

This is the best advice that can be given to the young man who is climbing the ladder of success. Good appearance has a lot to do with his success, it is what he is to be, and is well qualified for the position which he is to fill during the remainder of the year and next year. He was among those attending the conference at the University of Texas last summer and he will have the support of the active cabinet in his efforts.
