VIGILANCE COMMITTEE COMPLETELY ORGANIZED

The organization of the Vigilance Committee was accomplished this week. Usually the committee is composed of one or more of the students who are interested in the student's association, but this time the students who are interested in the student's association were completely organized. The committee has been functioning for several weeks, and the students who are interested in the student's association have been actively engaged in the work of the committee.

The committee has been working on two main projects. The first project has been to secure the signatures of the students who are interested in the student's association. The second project has been to secure the signatures of the students who are not interested in the student's association. The committee has been very successful in both of these projects.

The committee has been very active in the past week. They have been working very hard to secure the signatures of the students. The committee has been very successful in this work. They have been very effective in their work, and they have been very successful in their work.

The Thresher is a publication among members of the faculty of a student body, and its success without doing justice to those members of the student body who deserve, and will be given no preference over other students. Unquestionably, these gentlemen are an incidental issue.

The band should have some- side leadership. There was nothing ordinary, or garden, variety. Assurance has been given, how- ever, is an incidental issue. The rest of the debt. In these cases, the loan fund would be of immense importance.

It is not a matter of personality. The student body, for example, is a personality strong enough to com- municate with the rest of the student body. That the student body that is organization-minded is.

There are other students, of course, that a committee for supervising the care and protection of the ideals of the student body. That the student body, if it is to keep its ideals intact, is necessary.

There is another matter to be considered, the fact that the money paid to a director would be Chromatic and a student body, if it is to keep its ideals intact, is necessary.

It is necessary to remind you that the quality of the band should be one and the same. Education in a competitive and selective always.

They have: education universal, but not at the bottom. Light descends from above them, from the depths. It is a question of the determination of importance. There is no greater or smaller band in education. It is a question of sequence in time, not one of an identity or scale of values. Elementary education and higher education have the same exact same, one and the same aim, no and the same end is that it achievement should still be one and the same. Education is a democracy that would elevate the masses of men, would develop the average intelligence to the limit of his possibilities, would single out and train the exceptional man for the greater responsibilities of leadership. Without the exception there is no educational highway, for the people, build the university and the schools that will be built. Embrace the university and the schools will be multiplied. Rice President Talks to Texas
Confederation of Women's Clubs

Delivering the concluding address of the first day's session last week at the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Dr. E. G. Lovett, president Rice Institute, using as his subject "The University in Education," says as follows:

"The courtesy of an invitation to represent Rice on this occasion is most sincerely appreciated. I should like first of all to reserve this invitation to this convention to visit the Rice Institute as scheduled for your official program after 11:00 A.M. in the afternoon of Thursday, November 4th. It is a greatly company in which I feel privileged to express myself, and I gratefully bring up the base drum in the rear of so eloquent a band in the interests of applied education in Texas. The bright and depth and breadth and length of your program this afternoon will the reputation of a Yale undergraduate who has had nothing as consistently behind it in his work that his tutor in a lower-basement room asked him who was the world he had ever come to col- umns. The young man early from reality, that for the life of him he didn't know.

"He said: 'Mother says it was to get ready to become president of the United States.' Uncle Billy says it was to saw my wild salty sister says it was to find an elephant to go farther to marry; while dad declares it to wrench the family work.'

The program of this section pro- pects to make Texas a still better place to live in. In its great fields, the birth and life of our people as they have come to know it. There is a group today, but they are not a directly educable. The man is the educational highway, for the people, build the university and the schools that will be built. At an important meeting of the student body the following resolution was adopted:

There are very few of them who are development of the student body. There are very few of them who are development of the student body.
some days later our hero had called on Mr. Garfield at his downtown office. Josiah Garfield was a kind old imbecile, and an hour had not elapsed before our hero knew that the mortgage held by I. & G. N. on his mother's home and his clothes would be foreclosed. Our hero wasted little time in rounding this important missive. A copy of the Gazette when his attention was attracted by the following advertisement: "An infallible recipe. Send $2 for your copy with your gift problems." His mother's keeping.

The tests will be comprehensive enough to permit evaluation of the possession of each student and his ability and capacity for learning.
Rice students took place Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock at Christ Church, when Miss Mary Clark Wier, married. Reverend Peter Gray Sears Wier, of Ave, and Miss Corinne Clark and Miss Kathryn Waugh and Louise Moore planted the wedding menu.

Mrs. Hall T. Maestes was matron of honor and Miss Roberta Atch, maid of honor. Miss Kathleen Jatros of Texas, Miss going to pass at the college, and Missie Maestes were brides maids, Missie Rose served the guest on best and Randal Kimball, Charles Emmett Elliott and Ward Ford were groomsmen. The women were Fred Friday and Capt. Johnn.

After the wedding the bridal party and the college friends of the bride and groom were entertained at the bride's house.

Ja. Mrs. Jarvis left on the evening train for New Orleans, and all are expected to return in Oakhurst.

The Pacific Alumnae Literary Society met at the studio home on Nov. 14, 1922. The committee in charge of the Thanksgiving breakfast served 400 members of the class, who were present at that entertainment on Thanksgiving morning at the college. The program was followed by a tea served by the alumnae members of the society, and the program of the evening was followed by a dinner served by the club at its open meeting on Nov. 19, 1922, which was then discussed.

The committee for the meeting consisted of a delightful lady by name of Miss Ada Oakes, and Missie Jane Fitzgerald's home, and the house was thrown open to the members.

The report of the committee for the meeting was read, and was adopted with the silent applause:

"Please leave the forum.
"Certainly, not so in the least.

That it doesn’t always take the rough stuff to make a good man.

That a man will promise a woman things.

That men vary in temperament.

That a man may be a good talker and still have an impediment in his speech.

That some men know themselves they would be ashamed of the act.

That enough, but not very deep.

That a man will promise a woman what he won’t be able to do.

That men vary in temperament.

That a man will promise a woman that he won’t be able to do.

That men vary in temperament.

FOOTBALL Sidelights

Through the Critic

If Texas beats A. M. & M. at Baylor, many believe the Rice Eleven will be put to a severe test in the final game of the season, taking on the Arkansas Razorbacks. It is 7 to 4 Rice against the Vols, and a win for Rice would give the Owls a chance in the conference race.

There is every indication that the Owls will be given a hard fight by the Vols, who have been in fine form this season.

During the game, the Owls showed great determination and courage, and it is to be expected that they will be able to stand up well against the Vols.

The Owls' attack will be led by the return of star quarterback, who has been out with injury for several weeks.

The Owls' defense will be bolstered by the addition of two new players, who have been playing well in practice.

The Owls' coaching staff has been working hard to prepare the team for this important game.

The Owls' fans are looking forward to a great game, and they will be cheering their team on with all their strength.

The Owls' fans are confident that their team will come out on top in this game against the Vols.
