Going home for the holidays will give interested students an opportunity during Christmas week to make plans for "spreading the game" among high school acquaintances. Even if formal organizations have not yet been formed at the various high schools in the area, it is probable that some individuals interested in football have been formed and are working out informal plans at this time. It is not too late, therefore, for interested students to form a plan and bring it back with them when they graduate.

Freshmen and sophomores will be called upon to do most of this work. It is to be supposed that they will be able to secure an acquaintance with high school students. The up-bordering class is often the most successful in such an undertaking, but it may be that any one of the classes will be able to do it. The men who will be able to help out in this work are those who have entwicked the habit of asking questions and getting information. They should be able to help out in this direction.

The Thresher has arranged to have every name turned in on its mailing list, and copies of the paper will be sent out to each of the forty or fifty names during the Christmas time.

University of Kansas—That the university from Texas met recently with the University of Kansas—Thieves entered the college. The name of the organization is "Rice's Itotusrous Pawnbrokers." These gentlemen wear fashionable tailor-made, maintenance of various color and black suits.

The observer has seen that every Rice student was at the Central-Magpie game Saturday evening for no other reason than to see the amount of spirit that was manifested by both schools. The observer is of the opinion that many a Rice student could take lessons from these high school students. Everything was in unison, even in the three thousand students who kept in perfect harmony.

Our Dallas: That there may be those in this world that can find out, if it differs with a woman. Some women are so timid that they always are several years shy of when it occurs to giving their age. That the women who can look at it in a newspaper without working what came out in, is a fresh. That the life work of a woman will be marvelously just until the woman is in getting a position of marriage, which is to talk about herself in a pleasant way. That it is not the less of women who does not possess the creative faculty; and you are someone of us in making it a fresh as to being the same at the same time.

Cracked Gas

When cracked gasoline was first placed on the market it met with much opposition, part at least of which was due to lack of experience with the product. It was seen that cracked gasoline, particularly if it contained a tendency to deposit gummi and tar substances in engines, and in some cases in ag units, gasoline has usually been attributed to polymerization of the unsaturated hydrocarbons present. One theory is that the stillness themselves will not here come, but that the latter are due to the presence of colloids. Information has been notably lacking as to the nature, origin and method of formation of these gummy substances, two of the questions asked about them follow: Are the gums all of the same character? Are they similar to the essential resins, or are they possibly allied to the resins of commerce which are derived from the terpenes? How should the amount of carbon in a given sample of gasoline be determined? How much, if any, is present in motor gasolines? How much in aviation gasolines? The results of a general investigation are contained in Beilstein 56, which may be obtained from the Bureau of Mines, Washington, D.C.
