THREE OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED OCT. 8; "ON PRO" IS CAUSE

During the political excitement of the current semester, the campus has rarely been so quiet. At a full election has been called for Oct. 8, and each candidate should be made at once.

The election ruling during the spring semester of the officers of the Student Association officers more than the usual number of candidates. Clyde Chew Grass, president of the student association, was elected president, and Geo. Leejom, secretary-treasurer, was elected managing editor of The Cambridge.

Frank Bliss, president-elect of the sophomore class, has been chosen to take office in the place of Henry H. Smith, who was elected treasurer of the association.

By virtue of his election as vice-president of the Student Association, Millie Jean Ford, now acting president, will be nominated in that capacity at the annual election in the next week. She has a full election of the sophomore class of the university in the next week.

In the advance guard of the football team was the campus, and plans were made for the new season.

Candidates mentioned for the presidency included Charles B. Barnes, president of the student association, and Henry H. Smith, secretary of the association. The former was chosen as the assistant for the next week, and the latter was chosen as the assistant for the next meeting.

J. C. Beall of Wharton, secretary of the association, was the next in line for the presidency, and he was chosen as the assistant for the next meeting.

In all cases, however, the results amounted to a draw, and the candidates for the presidency were called to official notice.

Lincoln Byars, Jr., of Houston, has received the full attention of the business managers of The Cambridge, according to an announcement from J. J. Campbell, manager of The Cambridge. He is the new manager of The Cambridge.

George White of Pearland was chosen as the assistant for the next meeting.

The sophomore class presided for the first time in its history, and the candidates for the presidency were called to official notice.

Mr. Askrmbitt is perhaps the best basketball coach in the conference today. He has big reputation and has had a long experience with the tennis, having spent three years in the athletic department of the university.

Mr. Askrmbitt is being called to assist early next week. The probable result will be aided at a class meeting of the tennis team.

It is the duty of every student to pay all taxes, whether they are paid by Rice men, and by deducting the part allotted to pay for subscriptions to publications on which they work.

Hornbuckle, Bessie Smith and one or two others, who had not paid blanket taxes, were required to hold the office, is exasperating beyond description. They have new years, new ideas, new向上.

Everyone gets a letter, a spiritual uplift, an uplifting message."Because he believes" Rice is as true a "B" as any of the others.

Coach Phil had trouble because his men were too happy. The older ones have paid their dues and will be proud to work for a new one.

In the same light, when a new student enters Rice, he is a foreigner. But, fortunately, he has the opportunity of being naturalized. Old students naturally are naturalized, but each year as it is done in all governments, the payment of taxes is required.

For freshmen the blanked receipt is a citizenship paper—proof of citizenship at Rice, a proof of the holder's "100 percent" status, as the greatest senior athlete.

The Owl Strut was made famous among Texas colleges by Donald Jones, Jack Mayer and Emmett Laird, drum majors of the past. The deed for the Owl Strut is greater than all else.

Within a week or so the band will call for a new Rice man to put on a tight-fitting blue and gray uniform and a high owl-shaped hat. This is a sequel: no amount can be reinstated in supplying proper support for the grid team.

A meeting of old and new musicians has been called for Monday, in South Hall. Advice is unnecessary.

Somebody to Lead.

The consistency of striving to offer, with ignoring the study requirements, is reflected in the name chosen for a new magazine at the University of Florida, according to some.

In 1972 the University of California at Berkeley had 17,000 students, under the guidance of a single president.

The college of the City of New York was opened in 1914.

Appropriations to the N.B. de-THESE are the things that really matter; the new years, new ideas, new up.

Pedigree Parade

The machinery of matriculation begins with the usual drawing of numbers and waiting for corresponding numbers to be posted for admission to registration offices. Student committees, including the Y. M. C. A. and W. C. A., are serving as directors of information booths. In the registration room the long "pedigree" cards are being filled out and passed over to the various departments, under the direction of family registrars.

Every freshman that registers is required to sign the "no hazing" pledge, in accordance with the ruling made more than a year ago. Last year's freshmen were the first to sign the pledge. Pledges were, however, morally bound to respect the ruling, and still are. Only one of two cases of indiscretion on the regulation were reported last year.

The Hazing Pledge

The term "hazing" applies largely to physical punishment, but the pledge is used in its literal sense—to mean any form of hazing. But how much or certain Rice traditions have depended on established relations between freshmen and uppermen; these relations have been allowed to continue by mutual consent of all the parties. It is expected that this year's freshmen will enter into the spirit of the thing so as to eschew discretion and misunderstanding.

The pledge signed by freshmen is:

"The Rice pledge signed by freshmen is:

I hereby agree to abide by the spirit and letter of the rules and regulations while I remain a student at the Rice Institute."

OWLS PREPARE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP DRIVE

PRACTICE BEGINS WITH PROSPECTS BEST IN HISTORY

SOLDIERS TO BE RANKED AMONG HEAVY LINEMEN

Speedy Backfield From Last Year Augmented by Freshmen Staff Schedule Faces Team.

With harder and faster men on the squad than Rice has seen in five years, with 10 days of intensive training already completed, and with a spirit of cooperation that promotes excellent teamwork, the Owl football machine is rapidly being whipped into shape for the most determined championship drive in the history of the school.

Football in the Southwest Conference this year is destined to be of a quality far superior to anything in the past. An unusual number of great teams are in training—Atilla University, University of Arkansas, Texas Christian University, Rice, and Baylor, but it is a source of great satisfaction to Rice fans to know that the Arkansas Razorbacks are in training—at Arkansas during the summer. This made pre-sea-son rice from redeeming the rather mediocre showing made last year.

Our three backfielders this year, in my estimation, are as good as any backfield that Rice ever had. A complete set of new uniforms, the prettiest an Owl team ever wore, is ready for the opening game. Field capacities and size, and dark green, lattice-worked pants, andG old-Helmets are included.

Football practice will not be officially started until Monday afternoon, although a dozen or more freshmen have been working out already Wednesday. Some of the best backfield men in the state are registering today. F. D. Archbald, with the Arkansas Southwestern halfback of last season, will report. With him will be the halfback this fall. And it is almost certain that90% of the rotation will be started in the near future, not only by his playing but by his coaching. The loss of them are received with mixed emotions on the campus.

The first five practices concluded largely of conditioning work, to lim-ber up the stamina of the conference. Virtually all of the men had been en-gaged in some sort of physical labor or had had daily physical workouts during the summer. This made pre-season practice decidedly easier.

A signal of 15 men reported. With three days this has grown to over 40.

Passing the ball, light tackling, rolling out, and front work have been the only dummy tackling, passing the ball, and signal practice. The coaches have occasion to push into action some of the chemical work, but the practice will not be played until October 6.

The line will start right.

Unquestionably the most encouraging thing about the squad is the influx of heavy men. A shift in the weight of the year's backfield was so good as any in the conference, the line was too light to offset their proper support. Two heavy tackled this year, plus a half dozen more good new men, will be held a line which will not only handle 150 lb tackles to tackle.

dents. We are with you and for you.

Tennis Courts To Be Open For Play By Monday Night

Campus gardener, Tony Martini, comments that tennis enthusiasts and doubles partners will be better served than ever this year. The courts are not bound to the tennis season, and will be open during the fall and spring months, with lights of grass and wood. This means to prevent present waste from blowing away the few dirt courts and open courts. There will be no ready to play play on the eve of Monday. Permits will be issued for any court and any time. Fees for court may be received.

Current Court Ready.

An excellent concrete court in the Rice Park is available for use by Rice residents, provided they secure permits at the Houston Recreation Department office in the City Auditorium. C. O. Pollard, Rice V, is physical director of the department and he says Rice folks are welcome to the use of the court, but that permits must be issued in the order requested.

Permits are issued without charge. For singles the court may be reserved for one hour, for doubles for two hours. If the permit holders do not show up within 15 minutes of the time specified for them to begin play, they forfeit the right to the court.

Rice Grid Practice Starts

OFFICIALS HAVE ELIMINATED TWO GROUNDS PLAYS

FANS BID GOOD-BYE TO TOUCHDOWN AND ON-SIDE KICK; OTHER RULE CHANGES ANNOUNCED

Two old acquaintances of Rice football fans and foes, the kick touchdown and the on-side kick, will be seen no more, due to their having been declared non-existant by a ruling of national football officials.

Several Rice bats have been bolstered within the five-yard line, thanks to the mud, and all across the goal line for a touchdown. Graves (Maggie), tilts was famous for that. The on-side kick always was a dangerous play, and was regarded as unfair, due to the difficulty of knowing just when a kicker was on-side. Referees as well as players had this difficulty.

In cases where a runner with a ball is touched close to his opponent's goal line, but fails with such momentum that he slides across the line in the backfield, says this ruling, the down will be set up on the opposite side of the line for crossing the line. Instead, the ball goes back to the one-yard line and is put into play.

In rule 6 of the Speedling official guide book, an important alteration has been made which eliminates the last vestiges of the "on-side" kick. No player of the kicker's side, even if he was behind the kicker, may recover the ball until it bounces an opponent except in case the ball did not cross the goal line.

Other New Rulings:

In rule 6, section 1, a paragraph has been added which provides a penalty against the team which deliberately delays the start of a game. The wording of section 4 has been altered in order to make it a clear line after a fair catch made at the expiration of a period, the ball is allowed to be teleed from that kick until the ball is declared dead by the referee; and also that the try-for-point is allowed if the touchdown is made just as time has expired.

Some of the other rulings are of particular interest to coaches and captains. For instance:

A center, seeing an opponent off-side, lifted the ball off the ground and claimed an off-side play. The ruling was that the ball had not been dropped.

A loose ball in the end zone was about to be fumbled on an attempt to score a touchdown when a member of the defending team knelt it. The ruling was that the ball had been inter-ception of a great general.
