E. O. ARNOLD

Again The Thresher has caused an editor to be placed on professional status. Miss Sanders now/provides*/a local newspaper.

Mr. E. O. Arnold. He wanted The Thresher to be read, and although he had no idea of getting his studies to the scientific level, he was impressed with the paper. There was not enough time for much, but by carefully considering material, he looked forward to a better result. He made the paper interesting. The impression that was taken was for the first time by The Thresher under E. O. Arnold. The mesure-ment and the actual knowledge of writers which was provided to the Thresher is very much appreciated.

way in which the paper is made. This was all due to Arnold’s theory that the paper should be for the students and the students should be interested in it.

Mrs. B. R. Greenberg

On Tuesday, January 1st, Mrs. Berra's was suddenly dieted. At thirty-three years of age, it happened on an afternoon, she was well, when a stroke of sickness caused an editor to be placed on professional status. Miss Sanders now provides a local newspaper.

The holiday season witnessed several marriages of more than ordinary interest in the vicinity of the town. One of the most notable of these was that of Miss Kattie Brewster and Martin Lee Lindsay, which was celebrated on January 1st at the home of the bride’s parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brewster. The spacious rooms were converted into a lovely wedding hall, decorated in green and white, and the bride and groom were the guests of honor. The service was read at the hurn:ness of members of the wedding party, which occurred on December 29th.

Another event of interest to Blue students was that of Miss Mabel Sherwood and Erich Wellinburg, which occurred on December 30th. Plans for an elaborate ceremony to be held at Christ Church were changed at the last moment because of illness of members of the wedding party and the service was held at the home of the bride’s parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sherwood, which was in beautiful floral adornment for the occasion. Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris officiated and attendants included Misses Josephine Morrow, Betsy Sherwood, Danby Blaffer, and David Cowan Blaffer. Mr. and Mrs. Wellinburg left on January 4th for Los Angeles where they will reside.

Miss Leslie Masterson was honored at a novel dance at the Country Club, last week, by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sharp entertaining. The Blue and gray predominated in the decorations and the lights were headed with Owl symbols. Parks Brothers arbors were also decorated with the owl symbols. At 11 o'clock a buffet supper was served to 350 members of the junior and college sets.

Open House was observed at Acty House for the first time since 1923. A most delightful musical program was rendered by members of the Tribe Clé Club. The brass club members, who are veterans for the term, served a buffet supper.

Malcolm Lovell, Jr., returned to Harrison and received word of his selection as alumnus after a holiday visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. William O. Lovell.

Miss Nell Harris spent the holidays in Palestine.

Miss Verona Emerick, of W. Wallinburg, visited with friends on the campus.

William Allen, of ’29, visited at Blue Thursday on your visit to Pittsburg when he was a student.

Miss Margaret Sanders visited in Beaumont during the holidays.

Miss Elizabeth Blackwelder was the work-out guest of Mrs. Martha D. Andress.

Miss Ada Campbell and Harriet Garri-son were the guests of Mr. L. R. Paxton.

Miss Ethel Raney was a student at Texas University at Austin.

CoBites: “How can you stand living in a place where you can’t tell the truth? ’Til you’re an armistice.”

When the event is over, it’s a fair bet that both the bridal couple and their guests will have had a delightful time. The decorations were in keeping with the season and the music was provided by the Blue Band, under the direction of Frank D. Ashcraft. The couple will move into one of the dormitories in the near future and will be making their home.

The State Intercollegiate League Basketball Tournament will be held at Blue this year, instead of at Gal-veston, where it was held last year. The dates for the tournament have been confirmed and they will be announced on February 15 and 16, and the tournament is expected to last until Monday, March 6.

Arrangements have been made for housing facilities in the dormitories, for those who wish to stay over both days. Sleeping quarters will be free, but the visitors are required to make reservations, since these cannot be furnished by the Institute. A nominal charge will be made for meals in the Canteen.

Six of the nine teams will be eliminated the first day of the contest and these need not renew unless they so desire. It is probable that very few will leave until the entire tournament is over, however, since the Blue students will strive to entertain them in every possible way.

High school athletes from all over the state will come to Blue, and Owl results will no doubt have their usual wide spread.

Since Blue and Texas Aggie play a series of basketball games on the same dates that the high schools will be held, the visiting athletes will have a chance to see some college basketball contests.

Last year the intercollegiate track meet was held at Blue and the students entertained the visiting athletes for several days.

The second intercollegiate track meet of the year will be held on January 10th, according to an announcement by Coach Ashcraft.

He is in the process of organizing a new series of basketball games that will be played on the campus. He is planning to have a series of basketball games against the high schools, and it is expected that the Owls will have a chance to see some college basketball contests.

The Owl band was excelled in their recent performance at the curling rink. They played a series of games against the high schools, and it is expected that the Owls will have a chance to see some college basketball contests.

No one has yet discovered how to spend money and still have it, and a good many bright people have gone broke trying to solve this problem.

System in Finance

The ability to lay aside systematically a part of your weekly or monthly income and make it work for you, is the chief element of success in this world. This applies when you save money for investment, old age or other future comfort. By planning to save systematically it makes it possible to accomplish things that by ordinary methods of accumulating money seem impossible. We solicit small weekly or monthly deposits.
