FENCING BREAKS AT RICE
Will Organize Club To Learn Noble Art

By Kent Howard
Fencing, one of the oldest of the aesthetic sports, will soon be taught at the University. The number of students who have had experience with the fob and desire to take part in the sport, but who are not sufficiently trained, is increasing.

A program devoted to material on fencing will be given by the Rice Dramatic Club in preparing a special Friday night matinee. The program will feature the Rice fencing team, who have sponsored its development.

The New York City Fencing Club, in connection with the Rice Dramatic Club, will probably found a fencing club, who have sponsored its development and conducted an open tournament.

The Rice University Press, a leading publishing house, will soon release a book on fencers and the history of this sport. The book will be available in bookstores throughout the South and West.

Speaker’s Bureau of the Rice Institute will be a meeting of the Federation of the Rice Institute. The meeting will be held in the commons following the second night. The engineers will be held in charge.

CRAIG HOFFMAN'S Column

I feel bad, but I'm not the thinking kind. Austin game just because we were not in the picture of the band of football to win from some of our opponents. All the talk about the kind of football Austin's opponents was afraid of them. On the other hand, I think it was a missed opportunity for our team, for I knew that we were not in the picture of the team that we were theKangaroo.

The team was absolutely humiliated. In fact, most anything would have won the game, for we were in the wrong frame of mind and not in the right frame of mind to play. We didn't appreciate the way the student pulled the ground from under us. Not in the right frame of mind to play, and more than that a coach can do. We never made any improvements, never made any progress. The coach didn't know what to do, so the team was in the wrong frame of mind.

The game started with the Rats retaining possession of the ball and marching the ball to the Rice 40-yard line. The Owls had to face the Kaiser's defense that they have the real spirit and will to play. The game was a decided victory for the Owls, as the Kaiser didn't have the spirit and will to play. The Owls scored in the first minute of play and went on to score three times in the game. The third quarter saw the Owls pull away and score twice, and the game ended 42-0 in favor of the Owls. The Owls were victorious.

The game was a definite victory for the Owls, as they outplayed the Kaiser in every phase of the game. The Owls had the advantage in scoring, and they were the team that played the better game. The Kaiser was outscored 42-0 by the Owls.

About Your Outfit

Keeping appearances is important to every woman. But before you spend a fortune on clothes, stop to consider these important facts:

1. You have to look in the mirror and see whether you can afford such expensive clothes. If you can't, you should not buy them.

2. You have to consider whether you can really afford to throw away your money. If you can't, you shouldn't spend it.

3. You have to consider whether you can really afford to lose your clothes. If you can't, you shouldn't buy them.

4. You have to consider whether you can really afford to lose your money. If you can't, you shouldn't spend it.

5. You have to consider whether you can really afford to lose your clothes and your money. If you can't, you shouldn't buy them.

Remember, it's better to be well-dressed and well-groomed than to be poorly-dressed and poorly-groomed.
