AGAIN, education. And here is her reason:

Dr. Blayney's record as a professor, his war record, his record as a speaker, are all well-known to Rice students. It is not then necessary to review his achievements.

It suffices to say that Dr. Blayney has gained the respect of every student in the university. His leon will be keenly felt, especially by those students who are directly connected with his work.

C. L. A., congratulations on your choice.

YE STUDENTS

DAUGHTERS OF EVE

It’s good to hear the question of whether or not co-educational schools should exist, but we have never seen an orthodox opponent of the system.

New, how long, Elmo Olin, noted novelist, appears on the scene and takes direct and uncompromising issue with the theory of co-education. And here is her reason:

"Co-education institutions I do not believe in. Perhaps I am too old-fashioned, but I think that men and women should not know much about each other. When a man and woman are on the same plane with one another there can be no true love. One must move up to the other plane. Otherwise there must be a mutual admiration. This is not possible under the present conditions. Women are being all their natural charms—disregarding to become masculine, handsome and intelligent men and not admit this in the opposite sex."

"Under the present marriage laws, there can be no happiness for either party because of this change from the old-fashioned girl to the modern young co-ed. But it is so important that she will not be married by any obligation to a mere man."

Well, well, here seems to be one who has strayed from the path with the answer that all college men want to hear. And that answer is so simple that it will not oppose the age-old question of "votes for women."

"A woman, after all, shall be privileged because of rare, color or previous condition of service, or Sex.

AGAIN,

WE SAY—

The time of year to be talking the football men if they are going to discuss the ever present and essential axe of football.

With adequate material next year, Coach Heisman should be able to develop a powerful Owls team that would be able to hold its own among the best of them. Haasman's methods have been tested. His discipline has been taught, or rather, he has tried to be taught. He has shown Rice grid men what it means to win on the gridiron. He peered through the window curtain and adjusted his nose bridge to the finest degree and his sharp vision to the utmost of his ability to see.

He has revealed to us all the essentials of the game. It is to that we owe the success of the Owls team this year.

"Inspiration admirably shaped a professional part in the success of the Owls."

The owner of this inspiration is the coach of the Owls at Rice, Mr. Heisman, the gridiron. He has been the best coach that Rice ever had and all the额外 material he selected for this year to make the Owls team the finest in the South.

The Owls have put on a show that has electrified the world of sport. As a result of his discovery the reporter is now claiming that Rice is to the Owls as the Owls are to the Owls team. He has a wonderful job to do, but the Owls team is going to make everyone who listens to the Owls team excited.

The prizes will be a book of cross word puzzles, third series. It is to be awarded by the Thresher following the contest next term.

Authors must be legitimate bona fide students, and the letter must show the effects of proof reading. Only those people are allowed in the contest, Jim Cross provides this clause before he died.

In order to furnish another field of endeavor for those students who find they can not get in the 30 hard last, the Thresher is offering for the 1919 mail latter, in verse, telling “Why I consider cross-word puzzles a bore.”

Red’s Chances Good: Goes to Rhodes Meet

George Red goes to College Station Saturday to participate in the final round for the Rhodes Scholarship. It seems a long time since Ed Arman, who was to have accompanied Red, was eliminated by a technical error. This is a clean and honest contest before the examining committee, only one form of knock out can get the scholarship.

Each State sends two men each three years and Red stresses three years and none the next. Texas has only sent two in all the last four years.

Rice has never had a Rhodes scholar.

The scholarship carries with it four years of study at Oxford for the recipient.

Studies Must Leave France at Home

Students are warned that it will do no good to ask about their grades in the office before the classes come out. The exact date for this event can’t be fixed, but it will be early in January. Each member of the faculty is allowed to examine the examinations before he gets his grades, which are to be used three separate times—a permanent record, a card for the punch, and a card for the punch.

As the last exam is not until December 26, it will be Dec. 26 before the facts of grades, which cannot be changed, are known. Consequently December 26 will be all probability the day on which the classes are put on the mail, and the students will have to know whether they are students or not.
