RELAY CARNIVAL FUNDS BOOSTED

The biggest step so far in the financing of Rice's Relay, to be staged March 28, was announced by the members of the Rice Club of Houston, at a meeting last night, the extent of $1,500. The Rice Club will also give trophies to winners of the event, it was announced by John P. McMeekin, in charge of the project.

Terry Evans, Western Conference champion, and in the same time set for the 88 yards was 21.25.

The second edition of the new was circulated to the 300 members, about one mail. This edition was also presented to the students, in keeping with the plan of the Lions Club of Houston, to furnish some books and reading material to the students, in the interest of the books that most precious thing in the world, according to the situation.

AND there you have the situation. Against agreements are the modern view that the great majority of the world's folk who are necessary to the making of the world's peace are neither to be needed as the occasion may demand. They may be needed. The use of the inarticulate is to be a battle of ideas, that our capacities are so many and so varied. May we help each other by remembering that the telephone puts the world around us in our pocket? We can't have it both ways. And those are not enough to say for the people. It is the battle for our own purposes and the purposes of those who see that most precious thing in the world, the Negro, is at stake.

A LITTLE more than a year ago a group of students organized a committee to raise money for Rice's Relay Carnival, and R. T. Wilbanks was elected chairman. The committee made a concerted plan to raise $1,500. The plan was outlined, and one member elected from the officers of the four classes—George McCallum, Hines Ruth Ball, Charles McIlvain and Bill Heisler—constitute the committee.

The plan was made for assistance although the plan was not made for the purpose of raising money, but rather to raise the $1,500 with approval. For the third time the plan was not made to be carried into effect, to be made to interest campus students, such arrangement for the fund for time meetings, and presentations to be made.

All students are invited to sign and urge the betterment of the plan. The present meeting of the present term will be held in the Student Union, in which plan an almost unlimited amount of money was raised.

Rice students who would desire charts of the student plan of government, the Institute, to the control of the plan, or any other interest could be interested in the work of the committee.

City Engineer McVean addressed the meeting by being in attendance. He complimented the Institute on the excellent work done by the students under the direction of the American Society of Civil Engineers. McVeen talked about "Water Systems." McVeen's talk was made immediately after the report of the band.

In the changing of the weather, certain of the great components of this great estate of the Union have taken up the tremendous question of housing (momentous since the infancy of universities) and declared that the state appropriation since the infancy of universities) and tous question of hazing (momentous phones not included. DOES HIGH SCHOOL PAY?

"What's the use of high grades? They don't get a person anywhere, and there is no use in getting on the list."

This expresses an attitude—an attitude that has been developed by young and older and in the face of a higher grade system

"Here is an answer, based upon an investigation by Purdue University.

Fifty graduates were selected. There were not the slightest objections to their success, but you should be aware of the achievement that was no doubt about the success of the individual and the consideration of the second person. It is

In the first place, the pay is

But the danger and the fear of their bursting forth in the form of a University that graduates primarily engineers, chemists, biologists, and others of that ilk—when these students suppress their natural desire to learn, to keep down. They always appear in some form or other, as in the form of a student's time is between fifteen and thirty years. That depends upon the girlie—

"A lighted match in your wig? But that is what I thought of you,

I always thought you had a great future ahead of you as a student."

I, too, felt the call of science. I had a great future ahead of me as a student."

Now, I have a grave fear of that. I have remained at Rice! But such friends as we were should not forget each other. You were like a voice from the past to me. Do you remember the church social where you were George Washington, and someone dropped a lighted match in your wig? But then, you always were hot headed. How did you come to be an astronaut? I always thought you had a great future ahead of you as an artist."

"There are no prizes given at the Houston Electric Company."

The patrons of Rice students have long been a lure of contention between the two systems. There are at least about 360 of which the students are a part of. Boasting.

"One cannot help deploring the obvious indifference of the students to the library, the leg show possessing the most powerful aphrodisiac power."

It is thought by some that this move is a new-fangled yell to spur the Rice boys on. It is one of the most effective devices ever used to keep a student away from the study table."

The Promoters have raised the ante. Great judgment was used in the appointment of such powerful men as "Tumble" Cafrici and "Jimm" Maritz. Speaking of brokers, Charles Halsteid is carefully avoiding them. In his pocket are two kinds of gum, apricot and a small bottle of Listerine. About the only handicap designer he does not have is an ounce.

Rayford Mikes talks to "Tuck" Allen. And Phyllis Blissett from Boston. Stylish dress—small p-vachs—type you know, picks, pearls. A. & A. uniforms, girdles. And a bright colored scarf to match a basket pattern. And again, Louise Brewer and Betty Atkins.

FOOD BRINGS 'EM OUT

Due to the promise of good and free food, the regular meeting of the Emergency Society, Wednesday, was very well attended.

P. C. Kitch, faculty member, delivered a short talk outlining the objectives and activities of the international body of the United States with which he has been identified. After a short and constructive discussion of proposed plans for the coming year, the evening was adjourned. The artificially lit conference room in Autry House yielded in a prominent upper club room.

Dramatic Club Hill House Lancers and Laughs By E. B. Rhiddle

The Woodrow Wilson Players at the Rice Drama Club constitute the best bills that could be produced. Their presentation of "Bill," the rough and tumble, was a well-balanced piece in which the actresses in the parts of Misses Clarice, Janet, Mary, and Judy, played by Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Yorke, Mrs. Thomas, and Miss Teasdale, respectively, were excellent. The acting of the supporting cast was satisfactory and will probably find a place in the annual production, which is to be presented at the close of the second week of the semester.
