Cross-Country Team Needs Material

New Report Made

Proving that drill instructors never sleep, Mr. A. W. Forseb has prepared a new report on the Freshmen's Cross-Country Team.

It is due to the lack of experienced men to form the backbone of the team. The boys are willing and anxious to be of assistance, but others are more distant in their enthusiasm. It has been decided to set up a cross-country prospectus, and present it to the student body at a later date.

Coach Hamill, B. A. (Rutgers), former assistant instructor at Harvard University, has been appointed assistant coach for the Cross-Country Team.

His experience and knowledge will be an asset to the team.

For every Freshman that entered Bice this fall one other candidate for that position was eliminated. Actually two thirds of the school graduates applied as were accepted.

There is not any room for more. Rice is thus in a position which he should and wants to be in. Their selection is the finest which is accompanied by the survival of the fittest. All of which means that this year’s freshman class should be a good one.

THE SUM OF THE POT

But the Seem of the Pot and the Cream of the Lot occupy the average student.

It is not good for Freshmen to be too much of their own masters. Self-indulgence and self-sufficiency are the sure way of getting Freshmen a false start, but they will be accompanied by vanity and conceit.

RICE MEN TAKE NOTICE

Dear Ricer,

This issue of The Thresher contains information about various events and developments. Below are some excerpts from the document:

- Business Partner—Jim, your ex-business partner, is looking for a new opportunity. He's been suggesting that you invest in a video production company. Has anyone else told you about this?

- In Spirit Only—Don't you think Connie looks wonderful in that new dress she bought at the Fashion Park?

- More Retractions—Mary, you're a bad example. You went to see the movie last night and said you'd read the book first. You know what that means, right?

- Has Been Hardened—Hiram, you're taking me on to go to the game tonight. I won't go unless you promise to behave.

- Shotting Him Up—John, if you're going to smoke, do it outside. You're not the only one around here.

- His Pride—Mrs. Brown—Mrs. Oley says she needs some help with the housework because of her knee problem. Would you be willing to help her out?

- Wants to Die—John, you've been saying you want to die for a week now. Are you sure you're not just mad at me?

- Rice Students—Rice University announced new policies regarding student conduct and attendance.

- For Right Style This Fall Choose Royal Park—Royal Park offers new fall fabrics and splendid tailoring. For the perfect fit, visit Royal Park.

- When the Class Laughed—When the class laughed, I knew you were on the hard part. I think he's right at least. I'm glad that you're getting to know the students better.

Please continue to check your email for more updates.

Sincerely,

Loveless Addresses—

achievement. Bonds Invisible as are long to become, I trust, bonds of collective, co-operative effort, we believe responsibility for the flying. Freedom on your own wings freedom than heretofore you have enjoyed.

Further, your years of schooling. Furthermore, your personal experience, if that should be. Let us stand for individual responsibility. That conclusion is our hope for the country.

This morning is the time to determine, this morning is the time to decide.

The moral of the story is as always what the masters have been teaching us.

Rice University, to its old loving acquaintance, the Christian Church to its old loving acquaintance Science and Religion.

All these things would appeal to John Milton, John Wesley, and Charles Socrates, Plato, and Aristotle.
