A QUESTION OF HONOR.

Freshmen, and old students: the honor system is still in operation at Rice. Nothing has been done to acquaint you with this fact, but from now on there will be no excuse for a Rice man or woman professing ignorance about the Honor Council.

This council is comprised of three members elected from the Senior class, two from the Junior class, two from the Sophomores, and one from the Freshmen.

The duties of this council consist of trying those accused of dishonesty in examinations. They are NOT a VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

The duty of reporting cheating rests on the shoulders of every student, not on the Honor Council. The pledge that every one signs when he enters the Rice Institute states that he will uphold the Honor System, will do no cheating, and WILL PERMIT NONE.

That means he has a hand-and-dove to report everything that happens dishonestly during an examination. He must do this because he made a solemn promise to Rice that he would, and because he MUST do that in order to protect those that will refrain dishonestly during an examination. He must do this because he must do this in order to protect those that will refrain dishonestly during an examination.

Rice men are expected to report their fellowmen who violate the Honor Code. We do not expect any Rice man or woman to cover up the wrongs of his fellow students. He is no longer fit to be a student of Rice. If he would return the borrowed articles before their news gets out, he might be excused.

The point is that these things are of value to the library; they are provided for the use of students, not for them to appropriate. And come in the back door.

When one abuses his privileges to the extent that he takes something dishonestly during an examination, he must be expelled.

When a matter of dishonesty is reported, a written statement will be presented at the open meeting on October 8, at which time the discussion will be made.

In short, the Honor Code is a means of maintaining the reputation for honesty that Rice has well-deserved.

And remember — that is why it is called an Honor Code — that you are honor-bound to report everything that happens dishonestly during an examination.

Late, perfect records.

RICEOLOGY

A column devoted to the traditional activities of the Rice students.

SECRETS OF THE "U"

One of the most remarkable addenda to the administration of Rice, one of the most beautiful institutions in the southern landscape, is the Administration Building of Rice. It is a marvel approached by the student, a marvel discovered by the thought, a marvel discovered by the new details. They were not new details in the building, but new in the Individual.

THE BALLSPORT

The famous Sallyport itself is not strange to the Rice student, but it is far harder to escape strange details. Putting this impalpable essence, the Sallyport will arrive at the structure upon the left hand corner, or the capital of the A. B. of Rice, which is adorned with an ornamental disk without any significant change. This change is a small head mounted with an ornamental cap. This represents the fourth stage of college life: the Freshman, or a head of a man.

The muscles pass through the doors spanning, as service, to those occupied by the bas- ketball, and the 'basketball, in the Klee Student Union, and in the art, representing the first stage of college life: the Freshman.

THE INNER FACADE

The side of the A. B. facing the court, are tablets dedicated to Letters, to Science, and to Art, representing the second stage of college life: the Sophomore.

THE SAINTS AND SEERS OF RICE

Again, going back to the Ballport, if one will go toward the bulletin board, he will notice on the capital of the first column, a conventional design. At the top of the next column, however, he will see the heads of four men, or the same. These were the leaders in their respective fields. First there is:

Joseph Jefferson, Jurisprudence

Richard Galton, Eugenics

Thucydides, History

Heinrich Hertz, Electrice Engineering

Sophus Lie, Mathematics

Charles Darwin, Biology

Immanuel Kant, Philosophy

Michelangelo, Art

De Lessups, Engineering

Michelangelo, Art

Humphry Davy, Chemistry

Lord Kelvin, Physics

Charles Babbage, Mathematics

Robert Brown, Natural History

Charles Darwin, Biology

The impressions of good taste produced by the impressive presence of the A. B. of Rice, the Klee Student Union, and the art, are so strongly associated with the famous Sallyport, making the scene 12 to 13 feet long, and 6 feet into victory, but so to small. The game ended with the ball within three 30 yards through the line, Schley plunged for the touchdown. He failed for point.

Owls gave the visitors an upper hand, scoring. The resulting Jimmy Whitekr had carried the pigskin to the 50-yard line to run the distance by Manning, and Schley recovered on the goal line. He dropped on the 50-yard line to run the distance beyond what the point, making the score 13 to 0.

RICE FIGHTED DESPERATELY TO TURN THE SCORCHING GAME INTO VICTORY, BUT TO NO AVAIL.
Saturdays Play Terril At Dallas In Night Game

The Slimes meet their second op-ponents of the season Tuesday night in Dallas when the Terril (Ga.) Eagles visit. The game will be played under an artificial lighting system, and will be a feature of the annual College Night held at Fair Park Stadium. The Terril team is scheduled to be encountered.
