DR. SLAUGHTER SAYS CHINA ON VERGE NEW ERA

Is China benefiting, or is she becoming the dumping ground for the great modern powers? Dr. John W. Blodgett, professor of Chinese at Rice University, says:

Dr. Slaughter, an indefatigable student of the history of China, and through seeing modern China first-hand in his six-month tour last year, Dr. Slaughter reminded his audience of the importance of the new China, which is in a good condition for the time being. The imposing civilization traditions have been used up and we may expect to see a new China in due time.

It had been announced that diplomas would be given to all participants winning the first of these on Sunday, March 13.

Physical Education

With the completion of R. G. Y. C. F. field, as well as the return of the senior intercollegiate track team, the student body is presented with the problem of selecting the present physical training system.

Years ago members of the Rice faculty realized this dire need and saw the potential value of a reasonable expenditure for the present system of physical education now enforced at Rice Institute. This system was inaugurated in the fall of 1923 when Kenyon was instituted as one of the fundamental features of the University.

Thus we find in the catalog of the school that "one period of physical training each day, is required of all of men of the Freshman class, and voluntary classes are formed for the benefit of all other members of the student body. This year of training is conducted with unusual zeal, and quietly sufficient, if we may judge by the number of "voluntary classes," organized, the system worked.

This is the history and the character of the present use of the system, but more can be found in the actual "P. C. curriculum." The same arguments for the installation are valid for the continued use, as can be shown by the logical reasoning of this story.

To make a hypothetical case by assuming that all this is true, and that a new system of the same kind is desirable, and that there is an opportunity to purchase an in-kind equipment for the present system, with the addition of an apparatus that can be used at the student's leisure and for which there is an extreme need, it is possible that this equipment can be purchased at a satisfactory price.

Moreover, the purchase of such an apparatus can be made for a smaller amount of money, with the saving of a great deal of labor and expense, and the opportunity to use it at any time, with the assurance that it will be available for future use.

Everybody Talks About Us

We college students are the center of the universe. Everyone talks about us; the eyes of the world are focused on us, our every action in this country fails to come out of our own little circle. Anything that we do will be of interest, anything that we say will be of interest, anything that we think will be of interest.

It is true, of course, that we are not always happy, that we are not always content, that we are not always satisfied, but this is a natural state of affairs, and it is a natural thing to expect us to be.

But the fact remains that we are the center of the world, and it is our duty to make sure that we are the best possible center.

It is not enough to have a good time, to be happy, to be satisfied, we must also be useful, we must also be of service to others, we must also be of benefit to our community, to our country, to the world.

The Rice Relays

The annual Rice Relays are exactly two weeks away. Rice will then play host to hundreds of visiting athletes. Everyone will flock to the campus, good or bad, for treatment and attention they receive from their hosts will be a long time remembered and will leave them with a pleasant memory of Rice University.

The best thing about Rice University is that it is small, that it is friendly, that it is a place where one can always find someone to talk to, where one can always find someone to listen to, where one can always find someone to understand, where one can always find someone to make a difference.

It is the little things that count. Every little courtesy makes a great difference, every little kindness makes a great difference, every little effort makes a great difference.

The Working Student

It gives many of us a thrill to read about the great men in the history of our country. Many are the times that we pursue an article which tells of how some great hero accomplished a wonderful deed, and in the same article read about a student who accomplished a similar deed.

It is the little things that count. Every little bit of effort, every little bit of work, every little bit of effort, every little bit of achievement, is important.

In every little bit of effort, every little bit of work, every little bit of achievement, is important. Whether it is a small step or a giant step, whether it is a small achievement or a giant achievement, every little bit of effort, every little bit of work, every little bit of achievement, is important.
A normal Indian ball weighing about 14 ounces and measuring 26 inches in circumference will be used. The standard rule for out of bounds will be in effect, and the umpire will have discretion in calling foul balls.

LEATHER LOOPERS
TO GET WORKOUT
THREE PER WEEK
A method which has been adopted recently by many newspapers will be now in use on the Houston Chronicle. The purpose of the method is to increase the circulation of the paper, and it is expected to be very successful. The new system will involve the use of leather loopers, which are small, portable devices that can be attached to the end of a newspaper or periodical. The loopers allow readers to easily flip through the pages, making the reading experience more convenient and enjoyable.

FOOTBALL RULES
REMOVE MORE OF GAME'S THRILLS
Following the intermediate meeting of the United States at a new place, a long time after the conference season, the football adopted a series of changes that will take effect at the start of the 1944 season. Saturday intended to increase the entertainment value of the game and reduce the element of luck which has been a factor in many cases in the past.

Of the nine rules adopted, the first one is of more importance than the rest. By the introduction of provisions for recovery of fumbles, or upon declaration that the ball is dead at the point of recovery, the American football rules as announced for the past season are to be repeated. All of them were noted for their importance in making the game more interesting.

1. The period of play has been reduced from two and a half hours to two hours of actual playing time. This change will reduce the amount of time required for the game and will increase the interest of the spectators.

2. The time clock will be stopped only when time is required to put a ball in play. This will allow the game to be played with fewer interruptions and will increase the pace of the game.

3. The period of stoppage for injuries, fouls, etc. is noted to be reduced from one minute to two minutes. This change will reduce the time consumed for these stoppages and will allow the game to continue with fewer interruptions.

4. The period of stoppage for injuries, fouls, etc. is noted to be reduced from one minute to two minutes. This change will reduce the time consumed for these stoppages and will allow the game to continue with fewer interruptions.

5. The introduction of provisions which have been adopted by the National Football League, or other similar organizations. This will allow the game to be played with fewer interruptions and will increase the interest of the spectators.

Growing with Houston"
The Specter Papers

My observations have been made in connection with the conditions following the election of a group of labor leaders from Western states who are members of the American Federation of Labor. The experience should be instructive to the leaders of the Northern states, where the labor movement is developing rapidly.

The majority of the candidates for the Northern federation have been well known in their respective states, and have been active in labor organizations. There is no question that they are capable of organizing the labor movement in the North. The election of these candidates is a step in the right direction, and will be a valuable asset to the federation.

However, the election of the candidates also raises certain questions. The candidates have been well known in their respective states, and have been active in labor organizations. There is no question that they are capable of organizing the labor movement in the North. The election of these candidates is a step in the right direction, and will be a valuable asset to the federation.

BOOK REVIEWS
By New Student Service.
The "Caveman." This novel about the prehistoric life in the undergrowth of the Mesolithic age is written in a style that is both vivid and historically accurate. The author, Mr. broccoli, has drawn on his own research into the life of the Neanderthal man to create a fascinating picture of life in that era. His use of language is very descriptive and his portrayal of the characters is vivid.

Mr. broccoli painted our times, and his novel brings us new insights into the creative life of the Neanderthal man. The novel is not just an attempt to retell the story of the Neanderthal man, but also to give us a glimpse of the life of the prehistoric man in general. The novel is a study in the creative life of the Neanderthal man and is written in a style that is both descriptive and imaginative.

The "Caveman" is a novel that will appeal to anyone interested in the prehistoric life. It is written in a style that is both vivid and historically accurate. United States Civil Service Examination, Open March 26, 1938

The United States Civil Service Commission issues the following announcement:

SINCE NOVEMBER 1937, the Federal Government has been engaged in a program to abolish the mechanical and clerical positions made obsolete by the depression, and to create new positions which are more adequate to the requirements of the national work of the Government. To meet this increase in the civil service, a new examination is to be held on March 26, 1938.

The examination will be open to all persons who have not previously taken it, and to all persons who have taken it but who have not passed it. The examination will consist of two parts: a written examination and a practical examination.

The written examination will be held on March 26, 1938, at the various examination centers in the United States. The practical examination will be held on April 16, 1938, at the various examination centers in the United States.

The examination will be held in the following fields: clerical, mechanical, and miscellaneous.

The examination will be given to any person who is a citizen of the United States, who has completed a high school education, and who has not previously taken the examination.

The examination will be given in the following cities: New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston, Washington, and Los Angeles.

The examination will be given in the following languages: English, Spanish, French, and German.

The examination will be given in the following grades: clerical, mechanical, and miscellaneous.
