Dead Soldier Found in Gutter: Offices Are Now Investigating

Johnny Walker, aged 10 years, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Walker, in the back yard of the Walker home, 310 Main Street, was found dead on the street near the Rice Hotel corner on Mother’s Day. His body was discovered by Patrolman Tom Winkle, who said that he heard a scream coming from the Walker home and went to investigate. He found the boy lying on the street, with two bullets in his body. The police are now investigating the matter.

Chivalry Expensive To Men of Brawn

Chivalry is a virtue that is often overlooked in the modern world. It is a trait that requires men to be gentle and respectful towards women. However, in some cases, chivalry can be expensive for men. This is illustrated by the example of a man who was seen carrying a woman's purse.

The man was observed walking down the street with a woman's purse over his shoulder. As he walked, he was careful to keep his head down and his eyes focused on the ground, in order to avoid attracting attention to the woman's purse.

It is unclear why the man was carrying the purse, but it is possible that he was trying to help the woman who had lost it. Regardless of the reason, it is evident that the man was acting with chivalry, even though it was at the cost of his own personal safety.

The story of the man carrying the purse serves as a reminder to the importance of chivalry and the price that some men are willing to pay in order to uphold this virtue.
Dirt and Dirtiness

Clothes do not make the man, nor do pretty track sweat clothes make a great track team.

But attractive things do add to the effectiveness of an outstanding track and field team. Rice Institute's track team, on May 13-14, played host to six other members of the Southwestern conference in the annual track meet. More than 100 athletes, the cream of the conference, for two days will ply their wares on Rice Field.

On those two days Rice and her outstanding track team will be in strenuous competition with the rest of the Southwestern conference.

If Rice Institute is to maintain her track standing in the Southwestern conference, our team must be provided for adequately.

Athletic Council, we appeal to you to outfit our track team with proper sweat clothes.

During the writer's three years at Rice, The Thresher has preserved an inexcusable silence concerning one of the most glaring evils of the school. The reasons underlying this peculiar omission will not be investigated here. The fact is acrimonious and the writer has of late been too busy. At any rate the above reference to the disgusting readiness of the Saturday night dancers who now reach such a degree of refinement that they must obviously be fully qualified at the Dapping Academy of Moscow Merchant. When the author first arrived here the man of this habit and habit was still a danger to the morals of this city. It is difficult for anyone who knows Rice Field to speak in such habitations. Every other conference member provides for its men with dressing rooms, and it is a feat to watch them parade upon the field. If Rice Institute is to maintain her track standing in the Southwestern conference, our team must be prepared for adequately.

The Thresher is our offering, accept it with its limitations or refuse to admit some sort of social control whereby the wheat may gather. A visitor from beyond our ken, in attendance upon one whole welcome, unnatural democracy to a highly desirable, natural vulgarians (God knows most of the patrons phisticated, sinful party as well as anyone, as long as the thing is done gracefully. Sin, to be attractive, must be either alluring or ugly. Attractive ugliness may be a little right and more practical for the thing is done gracefully. Rice Meets Mustangs Here on Monday

Atkins Field Friday afternoon is where the Southeastern Methodist University Baseball Team/comes to town for the first of a two-game series. The first contest is set for 2 p.m. with the second game scheduled for Saturday starting at 12:30.

The Mustangs have showed an erratic defense and some anemic offense during their current three-game losing skid. The Owls will be the taller, stronger, and better equipped of the two teams; therefore, the Owls should be able to take both contests easily.
