DRAMATIC CLUB'S SPRING PROGRAM WELL BALANCED

Three Plays Hold Comedy, Satire, and Tragedy

Although the last productions of the Dramatic Club have been selected with utmost care and have included all of the best in both the form and in the idea in the school as well as in the nation, the same can be said of the next three plays to be put over.

Consisting of three carefully chosen comedy, satire, and tragedy, the plays which make up this year's spring project, entirely new, are all of recent origin and are designed to be enjoyed as much for their comedic value as for their serious merits.

PRACTICE IN THE MAKING

Tickets for the first play, "The Silent Hills," to be staged April 3 in the City Gym, will go on sale on Monday, according to information released by the Dramatic Club

Several thousand tickets have been sold, and it is expected that all seats will be exhausted before the opening of the play.

It should be noted also that the student body has agreed to bring the band of the university to the opening night of the play.

According to all specifications, self-securing, Wedomand, a greater number of tickets than ever before will be sold, the result being, in all likelihood, a record attendance for the play.

In addition to the sell-out of tickets, the student body also has organized a band consisting of all members of the band in the city, and it is expected that all seats will be filled before the opening of the play.

This is the first time in the history of the Dramatic Club that the student body has been able to present a play of such quality, and it is expected that all seats will be filled before the opening of the play.
the instance given, though laughable, has, at the same time, a more serious significance. Pleasant called forth protests from all over the world.

Six years ago, and whose conviction has been presented in the editorial columns of these special number. On November 25, 1946, the Supreme Court of the United States reversed the conviction of Charles L. Smith in the case of Smith v. Allwright, declaring that the Texas primary was unconstitutional. This decision was hailed as a major victory for the civil rights movement, and it paved the way for the Voting Rights Act of 1965, which further expanded voting rights for African Americans.

The decision in the Smith case was a significant victory for protesters and activists across the country, who had long been fighting for equal rights and the right to vote. The decision was seen as a major step forward in the struggle for civil rights, and it helped to pave the way for the civil rights movement of the 1960s.

A FROCK FOR EVERY OCCASION!

-And a Mode for Every Mood at a Price for Every Purse

The well-dressed woman who is pretty, practical, and prompt is of course not the only one who can afford an expensive apparel. She knows that by becoming acquainted with the names and locations of the war-time department stores and shops in her given city she can afford to be dressed in style and comfort.

When the subject of a new frock is discussed in Levys, one is more than satisfied with the stock on display. It is a matter of no small importance to provide a stock of frocks which is representative of the latest fashions.

Levys' new collection of New-Fashioned Frocks reflects every variety of the creative mood. The shop is always open to the public and invites the lady who is in the mood to select a frock that is suitable to her style and taste.
