FRANK POWER IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT SOFIE CLASS

Date Of Sophomore Dance Conflicts With Other Activities

A full session of the Student Union Committee on Saturday, May 7, was devoted to the selection of side for the Sophomore Dance. There were 19 affirmative and 26 negative, and the ballot was closed at 5:50 p.m. Dr. Power, the chairman of the program committee, announced that the affirmative side was elected. The winning side was composed of the biology, English, history, mathematics, music, and physical education faculty. The defeating side consisted of the zoology, psychology, economics, political science, philosophy, and sociology faculty.

EXTRA CAMPANIES

Leave your name to be a bid in the inner library. If you want a Rice Square, you may find the person you want to bid on in any numbers of locations. Only bidding is allowed on dates that fall on the same day.

Jazz Music For Savages

Says Tsanoff

Dr. Morand To Begin Series Of Three Lectures

"Jazz," declared Dr. Robert Morand, was introduced to the Rice student body when he delivered his first lecture at the Physics Auditorium last Sunday afternoon. "The subject of Mr. Morand's discourse was "The Jazz of Civilization." . . .

CAST YOUR BALLOT

"Who is your preference, as a Rice student, for the party candidates for the student body," the charter member of the Student Union Committee, asked the assembled audience last Sunday night. "The subject of Mr. Morand's discourse was "The Jazz of Civilization." . . .

NEW FELLOWSHIP FUND ESTABLISHED

E.L.S. Alumnae

Funds From Annual Card To Be Used For This Purpose

A welcome address to E.L.S. alumnae members in the form of a student card feed is now being established by the alumni of the Episcopal Literary Society. The fellowship will be opened to students who have contributed during the academic year. The card will be available at the office of the student union and will be sold at a nominal price.

MATH PROFS WILL GO TO TEXAS MEET

Dr. Evans Heads Program Committee

Members of the Rice Institute Press, the Institute Press, and the Houston Press have all been invited to attend a meeting of the Math Association of America, which will be held at the University of Texas, Austin, May 12-14. The Math Association of America, which will be held at the University of Texas, Austin, May 12-14. The Math Association of America, which will be held at the University of Texas, Austin, May 12-14.

STUMPERS SELECT AFFIRMATIVE SIDE

Election Postponed; Club Faces Camera

A brief and interesting intramural debate was held Thursday evening at the Rice Auditorium between the affirmative and the negative sides. The affirmative side was elected by a vote of 21 to 19. The debate was held to determine the side that would present the affirmative side in the upcoming debate against the Rice Y. W. C. A. The affirmative side was elected by a vote of 21 to 19. The debate was held to determine the side that would present the affirmative side in the upcoming debate against the Rice Y. W. C. A.

GEECLUB WILL SING AT HEIGHTS

Eclipse Hourly To Sponsor Next Concert

The Gee Club will present a concert early in March at the Heights High School auditorium. A rehearsal date was fixed for March 7, and the program will be presented in the auditorium on March 13. The concert will feature the Gee Club's chorus, the Heights High School orchestra, and a guest speaker.

---

The above text represents a summary of the content of the image, focusing on the main events and topics discussed in each section. The text is presented in a clear and concise manner, adhering to the natural flow and structure of the original document.
I
t of space allotted to three practically a light wrap. appearing on this day in the chosen and only he who nas stood the gaff state of affairs as we have this past persistent effort, both mental and phys ical.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM Among the notable additions to the college curricula within the last two decades is the school of journalism. The owner and publisher of The New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, his death, took the initiative in establishing a school of journalism.

The school of journalism at Columbia University is a leading institution in the field. It has been described as one of the best in the country. Many students have graduated from this school and are now working in the field of journalism.

There are several schools of journalism in the United States. Many of these schools are highly regarded and have produced many successful journalists.

We believe that schools of journalism are necessary. Those who are interested in the field of journalism should be educated and trained to do the work properly.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.

SCHOOLS OF JOURNALISM

A trained journalist would be the final product. A trained journalist could be the one who knows how to present the news accurately and fairly, and how to write clearly and concisely.

We believe that all students should be given the opportunity to be trained as journalists. This should be done through proper education and training, not just through trial and error.

There are many schools of journalism in the United States. Some of these schools are more successful than others.

We believe that all schools of journalism should be evaluated and examined to determine their effectiveness in training journalists.

STUDENT OPINION

The Editor's Stature

The average student of today is more conscious of his status than ever before. He is more aware of his individuality and his dignity.

Many students feel that they are being treated as second-class citizens by the faculty and the administration. Some feel that they are being denied the opportunities that they deserve.

We believe that students should be treated with respect and dignity. They should be given the opportunities to express their opinions and to participate in the decision-making process.

We believe that the school administration should be more responsive to the needs and concerns of the students.
The Rice Owls, in material set at the beginning of the 1927 season, had lost four of their five games. Day with day they worked to a great deal of success, and after a few days in the City League, it was evident that Rice was capable ball players. All are capable ball players. The Owls, being a fast team, were lost in at the Rice squad, the style of Rice play Freshmen. All are capable ball players. The Owls have made good showings with the in 1927. The Owls have made good showings with the in 1927.

Don't forget, if your size is here now is a good opportunity to

SOUTH TEXAS COMMERCIAL WINTER SUITS

$93 $80

Two Special Low Priced Groups

X.-Y.

There is Still A Good Selection Of Fabrics And Sizes In Our FINAL REDUCTION SALE Of All Men's WINTER SUITS

$30 and $35 $37.50 and $45

Suits New Suits New

$23 $29

Mary With 2 Pairs of Pants

Suit chintzes, worsted, and twill—oarse in weight suitable for Winter. Of course the same low price if your size is here now is a good opportunity to  buy a suit at a wonderful saving.

There's Still A Good Selection Of Fabrics And Sizes In Our FINAL REDUCTION SALE Of All Men's WINTER SUITS

True Education Includes a Knowledge of Saving. Save While You Can.

GALVESTON

HUMBLE OIL & REFINING CO.

TENNESSEE

CLOTHES

Gasoline, Oils, Tires, Tubes

CARS WASHED, POLISHED AND PROCURED

Wrist watch repairing; Gasoline, Oils, Tubes, Tires

[Continued on page 3]

CLOTHES

Wrist watch repairing; Gasoline, Oils, Tires, Tires

[Continued on page 3]

CLOTHES

Wrist watch repairing; Gasoline, Oils, Tires, Tires

[Continued on page 3]
Dear Aunt Eppie:

It is so good to see you after so many years. I know what to do. It is like this—

Aunt Eppie:

You certainly have a tough nose. Why not? By all means, go for it. You are a steady stayer, and I was told you would not mind.

Miss Lilleyfield

Dear Aunt Eppie,

Your letter came and I was so glad to hear from you. I know what to do. It is like this—

Aunt Eppie:

You certainly have a tough nose. Why not? By all means, go for it. You are a steady stayer, and I was told you would not mind.

Miss Lilleyfield

Dear Aunt Eppie,

You certainly have a tough nose. Why not? By all means, go for it. You are a steady stayer, and I was told you would not mind.

Miss Lilleyfield