Football Banned From Intramural Fall Competition

Comprehensive System of Athletics Planned For Year

The Committee on Outdoor Sports has announced that the program of intramural sports for fall will be modified in accordance with the recommendation of the Committee on Athletics. There is likelihood, however, that football will be one of the events of the outdoor sports which will be eliminated.

Four that injuries might arise in the sport of the period that would be available for conditioning was responsible for the Committee's decision. Mr. Ashcraft, states that the Committee believes that the days of necessity is over for this sport. He further believes that the program can be conducted in a much more thorough manner with less danger to the health of the participants.

With the abolishment of football the fall schedule of intramural sports will be composed of cross-country track, basketball, track and field, golf, and tennis. A new sport that would be introduced into the program is a class in physical training especially for girls. Mr. Ashcraft proposes to these classes, the whole purpose of which is to get the girls interested in physical training, and to make them aware of the benefits that can be derived from this sport.

In order that physical training may be carried out properly, he states that they will have to be arranged in such a way that the girls will not become discouraged.

The intramural schedule at A. and M. will be placed in the Sallyport Thursday evening. After turning out ballots on their front lawn, Mr. Ashcraft stated. A minimum of fifteen students are required in each particular department, the engineers voted to discharge those who were absent from class.

Sophomores Elect Jake Hens Student Council

The Sophomore class elected Jake Hens as their representative to the Student Council. They also elected Mr. B. A. Smith as their class president. Mr. Hens has been a member of the Student Council for the past four years. He is a member of the Delta Phi fraternity and is a member of the varsity football team.

A rice tennis team, twelve elephants, leaping along the way, and topless nuns pedal by the southwest, stop on campus in the large circular tram which was brought down to the campus by the Greek community.

It will be a lively spot in the campus to see them pass by. The nuns themselves are a special attraction. The elephants are a unique attraction. The topless nuns are impossible to miss.

Students and supporters of Rice left the stadium last Saturday after a basic football game between the Owls and the Texas Longhorns. The air was thick with the smell of burned grass.

The splendid battle waged by the Rice eleven against a stronger and less adept team was not to the Rice athlete. Whether it shall or not rests entirely with members of the present team.

The present political trend of events has served to demonstrate that it is possible to recognize the possibilities of the little things. The season’s most notable changes in two-trouser suits, the new square shoulders, the peaked lapels and the pleated trousers. Beautiful new mailings.

A DEFENSE
Of Our Universities With Some Modest Suggestions for Their Improvement

PART TWO

In conclusion, I would like to add a few words of self-criticism, for I was myself a member of the academic cloisters to which I have referred. I may have failed to recognize all the limitations of my own mind, or the limitations of other minds, in the writings of our contemporaries. But I have always felt that I had a moral obligation to contribute my share to the intellectual development of the world, and I trust that I have done so in a responsible manner.

I believe that the universities are the most important institutions in the world, and that they should be supported by the public. But I also believe that they should be subject to criticism and change, for they are not perfect. I hope that my suggestions will be taken seriously, and that they will lead to improvements in the higher education system.
