Saturday Night

Olive Oaks, Maine outing, a night at River Oaks, police lights shining from the long French windows on a grey June night.

All very nice, but the jubilant management of a certain genial establishment—"The Gables, Inc."—are not content to be outdone any more after four years of this stuff.

We noticed Dorothy Dumas in her new evening coat dress at River Oaks last Saturday. I don't know it at the dress.

Hand-bell fiddler John, who gets mixed with a hand bell at the same time the same Tuesday, was there as spy as the others.

Both were emancipators

While Lincoln was freeing the slaves by war, McCormick by his invention of the reaper was freeing the farmers from back-breakers. McCormick worked out a reaper with a long handle and then a foot pedal. His reaper was not always successful, but it was a great improvement. Lincoln freed the slaves by war, McCormick freed the farmers by machine. The telephone today is adding to man's freedom by saving time and effort on a scale unknown in earlier civilizations.
