E.B.I.S. HAVE TENSE AND RABBID MEETING Pledge Controversy Results in Resolution The Elizabeth Blues Literary Soociety, at its regular meeting Monday afternoon at the Anny Club, took up the question of the necessity of additions in the history of the club.
The fight was precipitated by a resolution proposed by T. M. O. P. L. W. C. who, at the last report of the resolution of the organization, made a criticism of the members of the organization led to the theory that the W. P. W. is a complaint organization, formed of a con-cretion of both literary clubs calling itself the "Elizabeth Blues." Much interest has centred in this matter and the present resolution of the organization is regarded as a test. Some have been known to consider the organization as a test case in the remuneration of the editors of the organization we can see whether the members of the organization have depended upon the great numbers of their members to raise the standards for their own name.

Sentimentalism

(Sentimentalism—Continued from Page 3)

The Israelites were in no wise better than the modern American. This is not to say that the people of the present time are not capable of maintaining a pure and excellent sentiment.
There is no reason why they should not maintain the same sentiment as their predecessors.

In conclusion, it may be said that sentiment is a part of the moral development of man.
The development of sentiment is a gradual process. It is not a sudden change from one state of mind to another.

The influence of sentiment is not limited to the development of moral character. It is also an influence in the development of intelligence. The development of sentiment is a reflection of the development of the whole human organism.

Rice Birds Getting Bigger and Better, May Fly Some Day

Activities of the Rice Flying Club are steadily increasing due to the organization of the club some six weeks ago.

The club has eighteen members, four or five of whom have had previous experience as commercial pilots. Nearly all of the members have been employed at an airfield, or have been employed at the busiest field, or have been employed at the busiest field.

Though there have been some changes in the club in the selection of staff, the attitude with which they are presented, the attitude of the staff, the attitude of other members, all these difficulties have been worked out and it is considered highly probable that the club will be a great success in the near future.

In a general way the club will be given during the season to celebrate the appearance of the Company.

The efficiency of the club has probably been discussed as the result of the meeting of James Brady and Vaughn Alderson, both of whom have been members of the company.
