SOCIO-EDS MEET TODAY TO ELECT MEMBERS TO WOMAN'S COUNCIL

Activity of Year Reviewed At Meeting of Co-Ed Body

As a small team moving to be a large team, the interclass committee, the Woman's Council, was invited to practice in their pre-season Friday, May 6, at the meeting held in the Rice Hotel. The meeting was attended by a number of new members and some who had attended in previous years. Old members who had been out of school for some time were also present.

At the last meeting of the committee, the Woman's Council decided to hold a meeting to review the activities of the year and to elect new members to the committee. The meeting was held in the Rice Hotel and was attended by a number of new members and old members who had attended in previous years. Old members who had been out of school for some time were also present.

CO-ED SOCIETIES MAKE SELECTIONS

Misses Williams, Logue, and Talbot to Lead Thursday

A weekly poll of student votes, the results of which will be announced later, has selected Misses Williams, Logue, and Talbot to lead the Women's Council on Thursday. These girls have been selected based on their ability to lead and their dedication to the council's goals.

Three poems were read, including a poem written by Miss Williams. The poems were selected based on their ability to express the council's goals and values.

at fairs in previous years that there lias been a more sincere interest, taken in review: "The last year lias been the best in the history of the school. It is, all must agree that the last year has brought forth many a much firmer and more solid foundation, which is felt rather than imagined. It has received much more attention, more interest among the general student (obligation). It offers the only lasting means of keeping close to, or renewing old books will never be needed again! Perhaps they'll not be needed for soon the pledge grow with increasing interest, and there is much room for new ideas.

A change in this year's club activity will be the elimination of the "student council," which is not to be sentimental. Yet books have become a recognized budget item; and to be gathered together for this purpose.

\textbf{Three Talks Today To Feature Denver, State and Holland} \\
The underclassmen of Centennial Students got their Friday afternoon in their regular seminar needed to hear these papers on topics chosen to represent the business problems presented in advanced practice. \\
Mr. Wright spoke on the subject of "Industrial Building by Fire Safety." The use of electricity has been a problem right from the start in reducing the cost and damage to buildings. Most buildings today are constructed with metal framing. Mr. Wallis spoke of "Local and Metropolitan Transportation Problems," stating that "many under-class men are deposited as a so-called "assailant," and Cooper's speaking theme is "The Value of Alumina in Industry." The subject of "The Value of Attendance" was covered by Mr. Wallis in his discussion on the subject of "Man-made Fibers."
